Revolt Smashed, Peron Says

Dixon-Yates Power Pact Receives House Blessing

East, Gulf Ports Hit By Spreading Seamen's Strike

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—A spreading seamen's work stoppage hit American-flag transatlantic shipping today at the peak of the biggest tourist travel year in history.

A thousand ships were at the mercy of the seamen, including great ocean liners booked solid for months by European-bound American vacationers. Thus far, none of the big liners was affected, however.

Airlines immediately were besieged by tourists seeking alternate passage. But they, too, have long been booked solid and had little to offer.

Foreign Ships Unaffected

Foreign flag ships were not affected by the tieup. However, Britain has its own shipping strike and some of its big passenger ships, including the Queen Mary, already have been tied up there.

Four unions were involved in the East and Gulf Coast tieup. The chief issue was unemployment insurance for their 33,000 members. Pacemaker in the negotiations and work stoppage was Joseph Curran's tough, strike-seasoned CIO National Maritime Union.

NMU locals in 18 states received "no contract, no work" orders shortly after an old contract expired at midnight in the midst of a deadlock over a new one.

40 Vessels Tied Up

The immediate effect was to tie up more than 40 ships from Galveston, Tex. to Portland, Maine. The number was expected to mount as rapidly as other vessels hit port. No passenger liners were due for sailing before the weekend.

Negotiations were resumed today.

The NMU was not calling it a strike, because its seamen were allowed to bring ships into port and work them there. But they were directed not to sail them out again.

Strike Prevents Sailing Of Liner

LONDON, June 16 (AP)—Striking seamen devised plans tonight to extend their spreading wildcat walkout to the Queen Elizabeth and freeze that giant liner along with her sister ship, the Queen Mary, in Southampton.

The 81,273-ton Queen Mary failed to sail for New York when 500 of her crewmen, mostly of the catering staff, filed down the gangway.

Her 1,175 angry and bewildered New York passengers including many Americans, returned by train to London's Waterloo Station this morning. Many were short of funds. Others dragged tired, crying children with them. And all were worried about hotel accommodations.

Airliners, with every seat booked, flew out some of the passengers. This only made a dent in the problem. The backlog of stranded tourists grew bigger. Six other transatlantic liners were tied up at Liverpool.

The 83,673-ton Queen Elizabeth, now on the high seas, was steaming toward Southampton. She is due to reach that troubled port Monday.

Funds For TVA Plant Refused

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The House gave its blessing tonight to the Dixon-Yates power project as it passed and sent to the Senate a $1,372,122,800 bill financing government public works programs for the next fiscal year.

Upsetting its Appropriations Committee repeatedly, the House refused to approve funds for a new TVA generating plant at Fulton, Tenn., and substantially boosted committee allotments for reclamation, river and harbor and flood control projects.

It rebuffed the committee, too, by allowing the construction of a transmission line to feed power from the proposed Dixon-Yates private power plant to the Tennessee Valley Authority system. This power would replace current which the TVA supplies to the Atomic Energy Commission.

"Log-Rolling" Demonstration

Backers of TVA's public power system had fought the Eisenhower administration plan for the private, Dixon-Yates power plant at West Memphis, Ark. They sought to let the TVA, instead, build its own federal steam power plant at Fulton.

In an undisguised demonstration of "log-rolling," the House added $33,654,558 to Reclamation Bureau allotments and $52,722,000 to river and harbor and flood control allotments recommended by the Appropriations Committee.

Log-rolling is a practice whereby a congressman interested in a particular project votes for another congressmen's pet project in return for support for his own.

$618,000,000 To AEC

As passed by voice vote, the bill appropriates $618,000,000 to the Atomic Energy Commission, $26,214,000 to the Tennessee Valley Authority, $684,000 plus a $6,000,000 continuing fund to the Southwestern Power Administration, $1,160,000 to the Bonneville Power Administration, $178,745,000 to the Reclamation Bureau, and $526,219,800 to the Army Engineers.

It was on a 198-169 vote that the House struck out a proviso in the bill which would have barred the construction of a power line to connect TVA and the Dixon-Yates plant.

This vote meant that the way was cleared for the Eisenhower administration to proceed with the Dixon-Yates program, barring any further obstacles.

Ike Quits Hideout, Dines With Mamie At Country Home

EMERGENCY WHITE HOUSE, June 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower ducked away from this secret mountain hideaway late today and motored to his country home at Gettysburg, Pa., for dinner with his wife.

The President's departure was not announced to newsmen until after he had left this evacuation relocation center. He came here from Washington yesterday to "escape" a mock nuclear attack on the capital.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President would return to this center for the night after dinner at his Gettysburg farm with the first lady and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver.

DROWNING SLAYER — Mrs. Gertrude Riordan (above) allegedly confessed in Brockton, Mass., to the drowning murder of Michael Baldwin, 3. The boy, a downstairs neighbor, came to her apartment to play "Davy Crockett" and sail boats in her bathtub, Mrs. Riordan told police, adding "I don't know why I did it."

West Sees Hope Russia Sincere In Peace Desire

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP) —The West is going into the four-power "summit" meeting with Russia in the cautious hope that there may be some substance to the Soviet's expressed desire for peace.

The Western foreign ministers believe there is some chance that recent Russian moves may not have been entirely propaganda, otherwise they would not have consented to the Geneva session.

Their attitude is based on a careful study of Russia's position, economic and political.

This was learned tonight following the first of two days of conferences by the United States, British and French foreign ministers.

The session, at Wave Hill, an estate overlooking the Hudson River, was attended by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay.

They will meet with Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in San Francisco Monday to arrange procedure for the chiefs of state parley in Geneva starting July 18.

The three western foreign ministers were understood to have been in general agreement in their evaluation of the Soviet position in relation to the West.

They also were reported in general agreement on their estimates of the world situation and the expressed desire of the Soviets to bring about an easing of tension.

They took an attitude that they "want to be shown" that the expressed desire is genuine, but that they are willing to talk it over with the Russians.

In assessing this, the Westerners discussed the Soviet government's economic position, its relations with its satellites, its recent agreement to an Austrian independence treaty and the "olive branch" trip Russian officials took to Belgrade.

It was considered probable Russia would bring up Far East problems at the Geneva meeting, but also that these questions would be put off to a possible subsequent conference.

Ike's Grandchildren Fly To Ft. Sheridan

CHICAGO , June 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower's three grandchildren arrived at nearby Ft. Sheridan today for a visit with their maternal grandparents.

Their arrival by plane from Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., was announced by the 5th Army, to which their grandfather, Col. P. W. Thompson, is attached.

The children of Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower were accompanied by Secret Service men. The children are Dwight David, 7; Barbara Ann, 6, and Susan Elaine, 3.

Senate Passes Bill To Extend Military Draft

Measure Continuing Callup Of Physicians, Dentists Also Voted

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The Senate tonight passed by voice vote, with little debate, a four-year extension of the regular military draft and a two-year extension of the special doctors' draft.

Both measures expire at the end of this month. Tonight's action was a surprise move, decided on in an apparent agreement between Republican and Democratic leaders.

It turned down pleas of the Eisenhower administration that the Senate tie the draft bills into a single package with the administration's plan for a four-fold increase in the active military reserves.

Bill Goes Back To House

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee has opposed action on the reserve bill until it clears the House. The reserve bill has been stalled there for weeks.

Extension of the regular draft already has passed the House and the bill now goes back there for action on minor Senate amendments. The controversial doctors' draft bill is still pending in the House.

The regular draft permits the induction of men from 18 to 26 years for 24 months active duty. The doctors' draft bill sets up special provision for calling physicians, dentists and medical specialists into military service.

"Keystone" Of Defense

Russell told the Senate that this is the fifth time since World War II that the Senate had been asked to extend Selective Service, which he called the "keystone of our national defense."

"Without it our entire defense structure would fall," he said.

Russell explained that the nation now plans a regular force of about three million persons in the armed services for many years.

He said it would be impossible to recruit these forces without draft authority.

U. S. Can't Reach Argentine Envoy

EMERGENCY WHITE HOUSE, Operation Alert, June 16 (AP) —The White House reported late today it has been unable to get in contact with the American ambassador in Buenos Aires since about 12:30 p.m. EDT. There has been revolutionary fighting in the Argentine capital today.

The loss of communications with Ambassador Albert Nufer was announced by President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, here at the President's Operation Alert secret hideaway.

Hagerty said U. S. government officials have been unable to reach Nufer by telephone or any other form of communication since Henry Holland, assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs, talked to the ambassador about 12:30.

"We will continue to try and hope that communications will be opened soon to keep in contact with our embassy," Hagerty said.

Center Of Argentine Revolt

Government House, bombed by naval planes yesterday as revolution flared in Argentina, appears in the left background in this view of Buenos Aires' big Plaza de Mayo. Casualties were reported heavy. The revolt against President Juan Peron's regime broke out after the Vatican excommunicated him and other government leaders for actions against the Roman Catholic Church.

13 Die As British Submarine Sinks

PORTLAND, England, June 16 (AP)—Explosion of a practice torpedo tore open the front end of the British submarine Sidon in Portland's harbor today and sank her with 13 officers and men. All hope for the 13 was abandoned tonight.

For seven hours Royal Navy rescue experts worked in an effort to find any who might have survived both the blast and the engulfing waters 36 feet down. Then they gave up. There were no signs of life aboard.

Seven Crewmen Escape

Seven other crewmen escaped with slight injuries seconds after the explosion in the starboard torpedo room tore apart the forward section of the 1,000 - ton craft, sent yellow smoke billowing from the conning tower and rocked this south coast naval base.

The Sidon was moored at the time alongside the supply ship Maidstone. She was preparing to leave the harbor on torpedo firing exercises.

J. P. L. Thomas, first lord of the admiralty, told the House of Commons in London "an oxygen explosion in a torpedo" caused the blast.

Oxygen is used to propel torpedoes. The practice torpedo did not have a warhead.

Driven Back By Smoke

Lt. Cmdr. Hugh Verry, the Sidon's commanding officer, said he went below as soon as the explosion occurred, "but I was driven back by choking smoke and debris, which blocked the passage in the seamen's mess deck forward of the wardroom."

Leave was granted to all surviving members of the crew.

The heart - breaking rescue task was directed by Lt. Cmdr. A. V. Emery. He told of the end of the quest in these words:

"As there are now no signs of life on the sub, operation 'Sub Sank' has been abandoned."

Asked how the men met their death, Emery said "I imagine from being hit by the contents of the submarine, which flew all over the place."

Britain's last previous submarine disaster was the loss of the Affray, which sank in the English Channel with 75 men in April 1951.

Molotov Agrees To Submit To TV Quiz By Newsmen

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—For the first time since the cold war began, a top-ranking Russian official has agreed to go on a nationwide television program and submit to give-and-take questioning by American newsmen.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said today Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had accepted an invitation for a public questioning about East-West relations on TV's "Face the Nation," Sunday, June 26.

"Arranging the program was the result of a six-months campaign, by telegram, personal visits and correspondence here in Washington and Moscow," said the CBS public affairs director, Irving Gitlin.

Adenauer Urges U. S. Arms Move

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 16 (AP) —West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today controlled disarmament is up to the two great world powers, the United States and the Soviet Union.

"In their hands rests the fate of this world and of peace," he said.

"I would be especially gratified if the United States would take the initiative in this matter and discuss the question with Soviet Russia."

Chancellor Adenauer spoke at Harvard University, where he received an honorary degree of doctor of laws. Another went to the U.S. ambassador to West Germany, James B. Conant, a former Harvard president.

Adenauer suggested the United States should use her position as "the strongest nation on earth" in moving for disarmament.

Berlin Police Halt Red Demonstration

BERLIN, June 16 (AP) — Club-swinging West Berlin police tonight moved against hundreds of Communist demonstrators. The demonstrations were an advance protest against ceremonies scheduled to mark the second anniversary of the June 17 revolt in East Germany.

Police arrested 120 Communists, 111 of them from the Soviet sector. They were arrested at scattered spots in West Berlin when they attempted to shout Communist songs and distribute leaflets.

Police said no one was injured.

28 Mine Deaths In May

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—There were 28 fatalities in coal mines during May, the Interior Department reported today. This was eight below the number in May, 1954.

Catholic Church Excommunicates Argentine Rulers

VATICAN CITY, June 13 (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church excommunicated the rulers of Argentina today in a historic action quickly followed by revolution there.

Growing friction between church and state climaxed by arrests of priests and expulsion of a bishop preceded the drastic step.

The excommunication mentioned no names, but the Vatican made it clear that President Juan D. Peron and many—perhaps all—of the members of his government were cut off from the sacraments and fellowship of their church.

Vatican sources said the excommunication in effect broke diplomatic relations between the Vatican and predominantly Catholic Argentina and that this situation would prevail so long as Peron is in power.

Fighting broke out in Argentina a few hours after the excommunication. Neither the secretariat of state nor other Vatican authorities would comment officially.

Pope Pius XII was reported disturbed and saddened by the actions against the church which led up to today's strong step.

The Vatican's declaration was issued by the Consistorial Congregation, of which Pope Pius himself is prefect. It was published in the Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano.

The Latin text said all who had raised their hand against Bishop Emannuel Tato, auxiliary bishop of Buenos Aires, impeded his work and participated in his expulsion, had fallen under excommunication.

Yugo Defense Law

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, June 16 (AP)—The Yugoslav parliament unanimously passed today a sweeping defense mobilization law.

It creates a Council on National Defense as an advisory body to President Tito, supreme commander. It also provides for the automatic creation of a war Cabinet to assist Tito in the event of war.

Buenos Aires Bombed; Many Killed, Injured

Argentine Aircraft And Navy Ships Flee To Uruguay Refuge

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine, June 16 (AP)—A bloody revolt exploded today against President Juan Peron. Early tonight Peron declared it had been put down after a day of destructive air bombings and street battles that swirled about Government House.

Many persons were killed or injured but there was no official announcement of their numbers.

"The fight has finished," Peron declared in a broadcast blaming the navy for the "infamy" of the revolt.

Argentine navy ships and planes were in flight to a refuge in neighboring Uruguay.

Just before the first bombs fell the Vatican excommunicated the Argentine President as the result of his bitter months-long feud with the Roman Catholic Church.

State Of Siege Declared

Peron declared a state of siege and called Congress into session tonight to declare martial law. Such a resort could be only slightly more severe than the state of internal war that has prevailed since 1951.

The Argentine strong man declared that the Navy Ministry had surrendered and been occupied. The chief "culprits", he announced, were under detention, and only minor resistance points remained to be captured.

Two Argentine warships, including the 6,100-ton training cruiser Pueyrredon, were reported steaming to a refuge in Montevideo, Uruguay, 120 miles across the River Plate from Buenos Aires, with a part of the rebellious Argentine navy.

Rebels' Base Captured

The Argentine navy has two battleships of World War I vintage, 2 cruisers, 4 training cruisers and 15 destroyers.

Thirty - six Argentine planes, some of which twice bombed Casa Rosada, the pink government house in Buenos Aires, landed at Montevideo, the interior minister there announced.

The refugee planes landed with 90 officers and men of the naval air arm and a sprinkling of Argentine air force officers.

The refugees reported that they had to give up the fight because their naval air base at Punta Indio was bombed and captured.

Raid Catches Workers' Rally

One of the air raids caught hundreds of workers who had rallied to the Plaza de Mayo, main square in the city, to support the President with their voices as army tanks moved in.

Peron said, "We will never forgive the infamy of our enemies" whom he blamed for the numerous dead and wounded.

The government radio said the situation throughout the republic was normal.

Speaking in a voice charged with emotion, Peron praised the Argentine army, officers and conscripts, who rallied to his cause.

'Voice' For East Germany

BERLIN , June 16 (AP)—East Germany will send a representative delegation to the Big Four summit conference in Geneva next month "to present the German case," the Communist government radio said today.

'Martial Law' Ordered By Ike In Aftermath To Mock Attack

EMERGENCY PRESS HEADQUARTERS, Operation Alert, June 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower ordered "martial law" today for a nation pretendedly reeling but recovering from the crippling devastation of nuclear warfare.

In a secret underground Pentagon in the mountains, Eisenhower and his top advisers on security and defense sized up reports of unexpectedly heavy "damage" from yesterday's mock bombings. Then they went over patch-up steps to be taken if this were a real instead of an imaginary crisis.

And in 31 hideouts radiating 300 miles from a Washington in theoretical "shambles," 15,000 uprooted government officials and employes began pumping out theoretical orders designed to put the country back in fighting trim.

Occasionally, too, this test run for possible things to come was shunted aside for the actual current business of government. Eisenhower, for example, kept posted on riot and revolt in Argentina.

Mainly, from the chief executive down through the chain of command, the concern of the moment was the staggering aftermath of yesterday's massive, fictitious enemy air strikes at 61 crucial American cities.

Confronting them were such unprecedented though make-believe problems as what to do about:

Millions of dead and injured and millions more in immediate need of shelter, food, and funds.

Tremendous chunks ripped from the nation's network of war industries—steel, aluminum, power and electronics plants, along with plane and tank and munitions factories.

Water supplies, crops and people dusted by radioactive fall-out sucked up from the crumbled remnants of New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Detroit and other hydrogen-bombed cities.

A need for quick decisions on rationing, priorities, and price, wage and manpower controls.

American, 13 Others Die In Brazilian Plane Crash

ASUNCION, Paraguay, June 16 (AP) — U. S. correspondent John Graham Dowling and 13 other persons were killed or left unaccounted for in the crash of a Panair do Brasil airliner in a fog early today. Only 10 aboard are known to have survived.

The four - engine Constellation, nearing the end of a 6,800-mile flight from London to Buenos Aires, cracked up and exploded at the village of Cuatro Mojones shortly before 2 a.m. It apparently was letting down for its landing at Asuncion, in the Paraguay River valley only five miles away.

Dowling, 41, was on the way from Sao Paulo, Brazil, to Buenos Aires, where he was Time magazine's bureau chief. The veteran newsman was the son of a theatrical couple, actor Eddie Dowling and comedienne Raye Dooley Dowling.

Dowling was one of 14 passengers. Seven were listed as escaping with injuries.

Of the 10 Brazilian crew members aboard, only 3 were accounted for.

One of the passengers who got out alive was Cecilio Bartoli, coach of Italy's Turin soccer club. He escaped with burns.

Paraguayan security police threw a guard around the scene of the crash and barred newsmen. The Paraguayan Air Ministry launched an inquiry. Officials of Panair, a Brazilian associate of Pan American World Airways, came from Rio de Janeiro to take part in the investigation and aid the injured.

Boy, 18, Given Lie Detector Test In Slaying Of Two Girls

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP) — Police cross-examined an 18-year-old boy today about the 14-shot slaying of two pretty schoolgirls in a suburban picnic grounds yesterday.

Detective Sgt. Richard Pearson said the boy, who has been given one lie detector test and faces another, placed himself at the scene of the crime near the University of Maryland but denied any part in it.

He was described by Pearson as a disappointed suitor of Michael Ann Ryan, 14, one of the slain girls.

Michael Ann was shot three times as she walked through the park at Lane Manor, Md., on the way to Northwestern High School. Eleven more bullets killed her companion, 16-year - old Nancy Marie Shomette. There was no evidence of a sexual attack.

Police believed the shooting was done with a .22 caliber rifle, which is still missing. The scene of the crime is about seven miles north of the Capitol in a Maryland community of modest homes.

Pearson, a member of the Prince Georges County, Md., police department, said the youth held had written a letter to Michael Ann in a "threatening" tone after being told by her father to stay away from her.

Today's Chuckle

A Texan was trying to impress upon a Bostonian the valor of the heroes of the Alamo. "I bet you never had anybody so brave around Boston," he said.

"Did you ever hear of Paul Revere?" asked the Bostonian.

"Paul Revere?" said the Texan. "Isn't that the guy who ran for help?"

Government Will Accept POWs Who Change Mind

But Men Face Possible Trial

EMERGENCY PRESS HEADQUARTERS, Operation Alert, June 16 (AP)—American war prisoners who chose to stay in Communist China after the Korean War will be held accountable, if they now return home, "for any wrongful act" they may have committed.

The U. S. government made this clear today in announcing it will arrange for a return to the United States of any of the 20 prisoners who changes his mind about communism and arranges to present himself to American authorities.

There has never been any indication, however, whether Red rulers would release former POWs who once apparently chose communism but now want to reject it.

The American statement of policy on the ticklish issue followed reports that at least two—and perhaps eight—of the former POWs have had enough of Red China and want to come home.

The statement was issued jointly by the White House and the State, Defense and Justice departments. It was released from "emergency" government headquarters.

Altogether, 23 American POWs refused to return to U. S. control after the Korean armistice. Two of them, Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson of Cracker's Neck, Va., and Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor of Kermit, Texas, changed their minds while under neutral custody during a "waiting period." The other 21 eventually were turned over to the Communists.

Both Dickenson and Batchelor, after their return to American custody, were convicted by court-martial of collaborating with the enemy and were sentenced to prison—10 years for Dickenson and 20 years for Batchelor.

Dickenson's appeal from two lower military courts will be heard tomorrow by the U. S. Court of Military Appeals. His attorneys indicated they will indirectly raise a question whether unlawful acts should be excused because of Communist brainwashing.

Garner Plans 'Open House'

UVALDE, Tex., June 16 (AP) — "Cactus Jack" Garner's going to play host Sunday to anybody who wants to drop in around 2:30 p.m. and meet the national Democratic chairman, Paul Butler.

You can bet hundreds will be there—to see Garner as much as Butler.

The former vice president hasn't left Uvalde, except to go out in the brush hunting, since he came back from Washingtin in 1940.

A spry 86, Garner was in high spirits today when he told publisher Harry Hornby Jr. of the Uvalde News-Leader he wanted everybody to come to his house Sunday.

Butler, touring Texas to promote harmony among feuding factions of the state party, had been scheduled to have a quiet, private luncheon with Garner Sunday.

Now, he and Garner expect to stand on the porch of Garner's home and shake hands as the crowd files by. Butler will surely say a few words, and probably Garner will, too.

Soviet Aviation Show Features "Spaceship"

MOSCOW, June 16 (AP)—"But how will I come back from Mars?"

That's what the little boy asked a guide at the Soviet aviation exhibition today as he looked at a gleaming, silvery model of a spaceship.

"Two big parachutes will open and let the ship drift slowly down when it hits the earth's atmosphere on the return trip," was the guide's reply.

The model is about five feet long and hung from the ceiling. It had an antenna-like protrussion in front of the two wings and big rocket expulsion holes in the back.

Accused Thief, Judge Brothers

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—Joseph Benedict McCoy, 40, a furniture mover, today waived examination when arraigned on a burglary charge before his brother, City Judge Bernard McCoy, 48.

The prisoner made no application for bail. He was committed to the Dutchess County jail to await action of the grand jury.

Joseph McCoy was accused of breaking into the offices of a doctor and into a beauty salon last night. Police said all he got was a roll of bandages.

Wicomico To Uphold Desegregation Law

SALISBURY, June 16 (AP) — The Wicomico County Board of Education said today it will uphold the law of the land but declined to make any official statement of policy on public school desegregation.

In an announcement, the board said it wished to proceed with caution on any desegregation proposals. It noted the Supreme Court has fixed no deadline for ending the color barrier in the public schools.

It said it's attitude is:

"A guarantee to all . . . the right not to be discriminated against . . . not to be denied equality before the law."

The 1,987 Negro pupils in the county make up about 25 per cent of the county's total school enrollment.

Neighboring Worcester County to the East, which has about 36 per cent Negro students, said last week it did not find it "feasible" at this time to end segregation.

Dorchester County, which borders Wicomico on the West, has announced it will set up an advisory committee to study the question of integrating the schools. Dorchester's Negro enrollment is about 32 per cent of the total.

Dulles' Rejection Of Europe Buffer Idea Hit By Cohen

BALTIMORE, June 16 (AP)—Benjamin V. Cohen, former State Department counsellor and U.S. delegate to the United Nations, said today it was neither wise nor mature of Secretary Dulles to reject a proposal for a buffer belt between East and West in Central Europe.

Cohen made the comment in a speech to the national convention of the Students for Democratic Action, an affiliate of Americans for Democratic action.

He said he welcomed President Eisenhower's recent appeal to the country to take a mature approach and attitude toward the coming four-power conference "at the summit."

But Secretary of State Dulles, he said, had rejected the idea of a neutralized central Europe "in advance of the conference and before the possibilities of the idea could be adequately explored.

"Of course it will be difficult to develop a satisfactory and acceptable plan along these lines," Cohen added. "All I plead for is an open mind."

The main theme of his talk was a declaration that the Eisenhower administration's policy with regard to the straits of Formosa "is a grave liability, not an asset . . . vulnerable . . . subject any day or night to a military incident which may suddenly explode into war . . morally and legally indefensible."

The administration, he said, "up to very recently has connived in a positive tabu on any intelligent discussion of many vital aspects of our foreign policy.

Disappearance Of Two Couples Believed Linked

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., June 16 (AP)—The striking similarity between the disappearance of a circuit judge and his wife and a Miami couple six weeks ago led today to an inquiry to determine if the two cases may have been perpetrated by the same criminals.

Judge and Mrs. C. E. Chillingwoth have been missing since yesterday from their beach home at Manalapan, 10 miles south of here. Few clues have been found and the investigation has made little apparent progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferri vanished from their home at Miami May 1. A lengthy investigation led nowhere.

In both cases bloodstains and signs of violence were found at the homes. Cars were in the garages and valuables were found undisturbed, seeming to rule out robbery.

Judge Chillingworth's fellow jurist, Circuit Judge Joseph S. White, said he thought the West Plam Beach couple's disappearance was "the work of a fiend, possible the same fiend involved in the Ferri abduction."

Two sheriff's deputies from Miami who have been working on the still unsolved Ferri case were sent here today to take part in the Chillingworth investigation.

State Atty. George A. Brautigam, also of Miami, told his chief investigator, Fred Jones Jr., to check for possible connections between the two disappearances.

Ferri, a retired Newark plumber, had been a minor witness in an income tax evasion case against Albert Anastasia, reputed head of Murder, Inc. Anastasia later pleaded guilty to the tax charge and was sentenced to a year in jail and given a $20,000 fine.

Judge White, a life-long friend of Chillingworth, said there was "no connection whatever" between the missing judge and Anastasia.

The judge, 58, and his wife, Majorie, 57, were discovered to be missing yesterday after he failed to show up for a morning court case.

Deputies who went to his home found the cottage open, the beds unmade and the lights off. A floodlight on the porch that illuminated a set of steps leading to the Atlantic Ocean was smashed. Spatterings of blood were found on the steps. Two rolls of adhesive tape were found, one on the porch and the other near the edge of the water. The judge's eyeglasses were missing.

A quick search of the house and grounds failed to reveal any trace of the missing couple. Investigators, now proceeding on a theory that they may have been kidnapped, searched for clues in the circumstances surrounding their lives.

Theater Picket Wins His Case On Appeal

BALTIMORE, June 16 (AP) — A Johns Hopkins University graduate student was acquitted today of charges brought during picketing of a theater that bans Negroes.

Sherman Stewart Merrill, 26, had been fined $35 in magistrate's court on charges of assaulting a police sergeant and disorderly conduct.

He appealed the verdicts to the Baltimore Supreme Bench and today Chief Judge Emory H. Niles entered innocent verdicts.

The judge held there was no valid reason for the arrest but suggested to groups who have picketed the Northwood Theater there are better ways to promote racial good will.

Operation Alert Results In Farm Control Foulup

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—For a brief while today it looked to some people like the American farmer was on his own once more—free of all federal controls after all these years.

But it turned out to be just another big foulup growing out of Operation Alert—just a paper move. So the man with the hoe and the combine still will have to reckon with marketing quotas, acreage allotments and what not.

The brief and phantom return to rugged individualism began with a news conference held by True D. Morse, acting secretary of agriculture, at the secret emergency press headquarters set up in connection with Operation Alert.

Since the nation's key cities had been "razed" with nuclear weapons and a great war had started in theory, Morse announced the Agriculture Department had, in a simulated sort of way, canceled all controls except on tobacco.

The sky would be the limit on production because a lot of food would be needed in nuclear war. As for tobacco, the nation has enough to last a couple of years unless the enemy makes tobacco warehouses its special targets.

So the wires "lifting" controls went out to state officials—and the confusion started. Messages such as the following poured into the Associated Press here tonight:

"Hear Secy. of Agriculture Benson issued proclamation discontinuing parts of cotton acreage control program. Appreciate a story. Thanks. Jacksonville, Fla."

To all such queries, the answer is: The government was only fooling, in a grim sort of way.

PITTSBURGH, June 16 (AP)—William Wright, 17, was sentenced to an 8 to 20 year prison term today for killing his great aunt with a hammer.

Innocent Man Who Served 12 Years Awarded $112,291

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP) —A Court of Claims judge awarded $112,291 today to 41-year-old Louis Hoffner as compensation for his 12-year imprisonment on a murder conviction that was set aside in 1952.

Hoffner, a bespectacled bachelor thanked Judge Frederick A. Young, saying:

"I feel very good that it's all over."

"I've got my freedom, that's the main thing," he told reporters.

Judge Young called Hoffner's original conviction "a tragic miscarriage of justice."

Hoffner was sentenced to life imprisonment for the still-unsolved slaying of a Queens bartender in 1940.

A Queens County judge set aside the conviction after a five-year campaign headed by Edward J. Mowery, staff writer of the New York World-Telegram & Sun.

The campaign brought disclosure of minutes of a police lineup at which the state's star witness failed to identify Hoffner—although he did so later in court.

Results of a lie detector test showed Hoffner was telling the truth in claiming innocence. Hoffner was not allowed to take the test when he was first accused in 1940.

Judge Young called the Court of Claims "the conscience of the state," adding that "we can be proud that our system of laws recognizes that our citizens deserve redress not only for claims legally enforceable but also for moral obligations."

Langenfelder Low On Tunnel Ramp Bid

BALTIMORE, June 16 (AP)—C. J. Langenfelder and Son Inc. submitted the apparent low bid of $2,206,324 today for one of the major projects on the tunnel which the State Roads Commission is building under Baltimore Harbor.

The work includes the immediate approach on the southwest or Fairfield end of the tunnel—1,620 feet of bridge and open ramp section which will take the four-lane roadway down to the south portal of the tunnel itself.

Second low bidder was Merritt-Chapman and Scott, which has the 29 million dollar contract for building the main section of the tunnel beneath the Patapsco River.

Eight other bids ran as high as $2,897,353.

The English soldiers got the nickname of limeys, so the story goes, because they were served lime juice during an epidemic of scurvy.

McCarthy Labels Talks With Soviet 'Blunder' By Ike

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy accused President Eisenhower today of making a "tragic blunder" in agreeing to Big Four talks with Russia, but other senators expressed confidence in the President's policy for world peace.

The Wisconsin Republican told the Senate, "The administration is fashioning the free world's worst defeat since the end of the second World War."

His assessment of the situation was challenged promptly by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader; Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) and others.

Sen. Mansfield of Montana, a Democrat, said Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles should have the support of all Americans so they can negotiate at Geneva next month with "strength and conviction."

McCarthy asserted the Soviet government has "an unblemished record of not keeping a single agreement that it was to its advantage to break." He said that as he sees it Eisenhower "has agreed to play with a stacked deck."

What the United States ought to do, McCarthy said, is:

"Announce to the Kremlin leaders that we have decided to be more specific about the Geneva agenda.

"Advise them that we are prepared to talk about the liberation of the countries now held captive by Communists—and nothing else.

"Advise them that there will be no discussion of neutrality for Germany, no discussion about a cease-fire in the Formosa Straits, no discussion about paring down the nuclear arms superiority the free world now enjoys."

There have been times when Knowland disagreed with Eisenhower's foreign policy. But Knowland told McCarthy today he is "not willing to take the defeatist position" he said the Wisconsin senator had taken.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

ISTANBUL, June 16 (INS) — You must travel to far-flung places to comprehend the extent of our commitment abroad.

At Gander, Newfoundland, tired but uncomplaining Air Force and Army wives fussed over formulas for the babies in arms, tried to keep the toddlers from being trampled underfoot, and munched listless hamburgers. Uniformed husbands, their sleeves a zebra's leg of hash marks, their left breasts ablaze with ribbons, wandered about and policed their children or marched them off to the bathrooms.

The same tableau was on tap at the London airport, and one can see it any day at Paris, Milan, Rome, Athens, Istanbul, Jidda, all across North Africa, Karachi, Hong Kong Seoul, Tokyo, on Formosa, Manila, Iwo, Wake, Guam and back again. It is the most dramatic translation of our expansion within a few years from a nation of rugged isolationists to the greatest dispensers of goods and know-how in history. Wet, wailing American babies being lullabied between planes halfway around the world from the leafy U. S. village whence the parents most likely sprang strike me as a more eloquent sign of our times than the B-47 plumes I saw in the wide blue yonder over Munich. Or the atomic cannons we have pointed at the passes through which the Red army must advance, if it does.

The far-traveling dependents are winning this cold war, too.

Leo Carillo, the one hundred and ten percent American actor who speaks wtih a delightfully droll Spanish accent, came up with the line which wrung the heartiest applause from Turkish dignitaries on hand for the opening of the Istanbul Hilton.

"In our country when we want to speak or hear the truth we look each other in the eye and say, 'Let's talk turkey,' " Carillo said, bringing down huge portions of the only hotel Mr. Hilton has on the Bosphorus.

The Istanbul Hilton got off to the same somewhat eerie start as the Caribe Hilton in San Juan, P.R., and the Castellano Hilton in Madrid. The electric circuits failed on opening night, casting the stars and their minor satellites into exterior darkness.

With some of Hollywood and Broadway's most beautiful women about, I got stuck in the stygian night with Art Buchwald and Oz Cocke, the TWA veep. And vice versa.

A parched traveler in from Saudi Arabia reports that Mollie Thayer of the Washington Post and Times-Herald (Mollie's a reserve Air Force lieutenant colonel on the side) got an unprecedented welcome during her recent trip there, including unheard-of receptions by the plural wives of the royal family.

He revealed, too, that there is no power on earth quite as absolute as that of King Saud and his abundant family. A Convair of the bustling Saudi Arabian Airlines was about to take off with a full pay load of customers and freight not long ago when a member of the royal household drove up with his party and said he needed the plane for a gazelle hunt. Everybody and everything had to be unloaded.

There were so many traffic accidents during the last pilgrimage to Mecca that a simple preventive law has been laid down: Any driver who needlessly causes the death of another person will suffer the loss of his own life. Two bus drivers were beheaded in a public square in Jidda recently, and all road traffic in the oil-soaked country is now moving at a snail's pace, minus.

Picked up a "There will always be an England" item in the London Daily Mirror, coming through. To wit:

"Viscount Samuel, aged 84, is giving up the leadership of the Liberal Party in the House of Lords —a position he has held for 14 years—it was announced last night.

"He wishes to have more time for writing."

Good Personnel Practice

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says employment of physically handicapped persons is good personnel practice. He cited the addition of 64 such employes by his department during 1954.

Humphrey's observation was contained in an editorial in the June issue of Performance monthly publication of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

A modern door key can be made in 32,768 possible combinations from a single type of key blank.

15-Mile Tunnel Called Answer To Lebanon Ills

BEIRUT, Lebanon, June 16 (AP)—A 15-mile tunnel through the Lebanon mountains has been proposed as a means of restoring this country's ancient position as a land communications terminal for the Middle East.

Engineer Maurice Gemayel says the highway would short-circuit the high mountain barrier now standing between Beirut on the seacoast and inland cities like Damascus, Baghdad and Kuwait. It would link up with a proposed pan-Arab highway network, connecting with Persian Gulf ports, Baghdad, Aleppo and Amman.

Beirut has the busiest airport in the Middle East, with more than 75 flight movements daily and with 25 airlines having centers here. More than a hundred shipping lines use Beirut's seaport.

Land communications have lagged far behind. The two-lane highway to Damascus winds over mountains which are covered with snow and ice many days during winter. A narrow-gauge railway creeps over the mountains, covering 38 miles in six hours.

In ancient times cities like Tyre, Sidon and Beirut were active centers of commerce between East and West. When Vasco de Gama discovered the sea route around South Africa, the old land route to India through the Levant dropped into insignificance. Now the sea route around Africa has become slow for modern commerce.

Paths Of Theology, Science May Be Converging In Search For Man's Understanding Of Self

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—Man's long search for understanding of himself—and the secret of happiness—today may be approaching the completion of a great circle.

The search began in religion, branched off into science, and now—despite the void that came between the two fields—the paths of both may be converging toward an almost identical discovery.

Evidence of this similarity of findings about the mystery of man's nature has been cropping up repeatedly at recent conferences between theologians and psychiatrists.

Deep psychoanalysis, says Dr. Frederick Hacker, of Beverly Hills Calif., has been found to reveal "a most unexpected similarity to religious phenomena."

Recent frank discussions between churchmen and psychiatrists some of them held behind closed doors, mention these points on which they have come—by different routes—to like conclusions:

1. That human beings are affected by an influence beyond themselves—a "super ego" psychiatry describes it—that can't be traced either to instincts or past experiences.

2. That both religion and psychiatry find in man the constant interplay of such conflicting drives as life and death, love and aggression, the scientifically understandable impulses and the baffling ones of unknown origin.

3. That psychoanalysis, like religion, finds the root of a person's sense of well-being and self-understanding is in a deep feeling that comes from the inner search, rather than in any mere factual exposure of causes and effects.

4. That both in religion and psychiatry, the deepest, strongest key to personal fulfillment and happiness stems from one central element—the ability to love others. ("Thy neighbor as thyself.")

Dr. Adelaide M. Johnson of Rochester, Minn., describing reactions to a patient who has gone through profound psychoanalysis, said:

"The patient may feel for the first time that he is implicated in a great enveloping mystery.

"They often say, and they grope for words, 'this must be what the religious leaders mean by "pure in heart", "grace", "faith".'

"Interestingly, the simplest common denominator of feeling we observe at this core . . . is a realization of a deep capacity for loving . . . "

This, she added, may be basic both to psychiatrists and theologians in seeking the way of true conquest in life.

Cooperation between churchmen and psychiatrists has been a growing thing lately. Teams made up of specialists in the two spheres frequently work together in clinics and other projects.

A reason for the original breach, in which psychiatry first viewed religion as "mass neurosis," and was in turn denounced as a tool of the devil, was a difference in starting points.

Religion, said theologian Dr. Perry E. Gresham of Bethany College, W.Va., "begins with God," while psychiatry "begins with man." Yet both now seem to reach—from opposite directions—toward kindred revelations about man's makeup.

Behind the old-time feud, said Dr. Hacker, lay a deeper friction between so-called "facts" and "ideals."

But advanced psychiatrists are now aware, he added, that there is no sharp division between facts and ideals, between reason and emotion, or between the rational and unexplainable elements in man.

The two, he said, are "extreme points of a pendulum swing rather than separate essences."

Can man then hope, by exploring both religion and science, ever to find pure knowledge of himself and the mystery within him? Perhaps not, for as self-seeking man, he can never have pure objectivity outside himself.

Yet, both the psychiatrist and religious monastic pursue comparable courses in trying to free the mind of worldly distractions and blind spots—so life can be seen more clearly.

And the psychiatrist today can echo St. Augustine who said long ago that if you want truth: "Go within yourself. In the innermost depth of man lies truth."

'Copter Taxi Service

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—A sky-taxi service is going to be put to work shuttling over metropolitan Chicago.

Saul Poliak, head of an exposition-management firm here, said a fleet of helicopter taxis will operate between a production engineering show at Chicago's Navy Pier and a machine tool show at the International Amphitheater for some 100,000 businessmen visiting there Sept. 6 to 16.

First Man To Split Atom Voices Plan

TRIER, Germany, June 16 (AP)—Prof. Otto Hahn, first man to split the atom, voiced an appeal to mankind today to "shun the ways leading to destruction."

"Terrified, one sees that science is equipping mankind with the means to destroy itself," Hahn told a German science meeting.

Winner of the 1944 Nobel prize in chemistry, he said:

"The danger is not only that several hundred thousand people may be killed through the atom bomb, but that damage is spread by radioactive clouds against which there is no permanent protection....

Special Offerings

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—Seventh-Day Adventists have scheduled special offerings by congregations across the nation this Saturday to support a $12,300,000 expansion program for its California medical center.

Shades Of Davy Crockett

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—H-bombs, guided missiles and jet aircraft took a back seat in the often-conservative Senate Appropriations Committee—for the moment.

The committee has voted $1,700,000 to improve the markmanship of the nation's men. This is 17 times the $100,000 recommended in President Eisenhower's budget and more than six times the funds voted by the House.

The probable explanation: Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz) of the pursestring committee was a crack shot before he was elected to Congress—in 1907-11.

Cargo Of Silver Coins

VERACRUZ, Mexico, June 16 (AP)—The Greek steamer Helenic is en route from here to Saudi Arabia with a cargo of silver coins minted in Mexico on order of the royal Arabian government. Officials said the shipment includes 5,000 boxes of money valued at 40 million pesos ($3,200,000).

West Virginia Mine To Resume Operation

FAIRMONT, W. Va., June 16 (AP)—Better times for the coal fields was underscored today with the announcement of a suspended mine operation would soon resume production.

Robert W. Hanna, president of Virginia and Pittsburgh Coal and Coke Co., announced the firm's Kingsport mine, idle since April 1, 1954, would resume work July 5.

Hanna said about 50 of the mine's furloughed employes would be recalled to duty. Kingsport produces about 400 tons of coal a day.

Hanna said the improved demand for high grade metallurgical coal was responsible for the scheduled re-opening.

U. N. Battles Between Henry Cabot Lodge And Late Andrei Vishinsky Drew Crowds

Editor's Note: The United Nations, being made up of humans, has often added up to a good show from the spectator's standpoint. This last of three articles in connection with the U. N.'s 10th anniversary observance discusses personalities whose antics have helped pack the spectator galleries.

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and Andrei Y. Vishinsky always drew the crowds for their battles in U.N. sessions but the old Russian died during a spell of unaccustomed peace with his foe.

Some of Vishinsky's ill - wishers wondered if peace were too much for him.

Whether he was liked or disliked, the Soviet delegate, who wept when Joseph Stalin died, was the star with the longest run in the U. N. Lodge, who was appointed after President Eisen - hower's election in 1952, shook hands with Vishinsky only when protocol required it. Sometimes Lodge went out of his way to avoid having to shake hands. But the day came when Lodge wanted a unanimous vote endorsing President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan. So he called on Vishinsky to explain the resolution.

It so happened that Vishinsky was at that time pursuing the Georgi Malenkov policy of peaceful coexistence, so he listened. Lodge and Vishinsky agreed on the resolution. Vishinsky's last official call before he died last November was to Lodge's office for a final discussion on the proposal. He collapsed at his desk and died before the U. N. voted unanimously.

After he died, his temporary successor, Jacob A. Malik, told the U. N. that a Soviet doctor performed an autopsy. Malik said the doctor found Vishinsky had the brain of a 30-year-old man and the heart of a 70-year-old.

Vishinsky was not always the agreeable diplomat. He often provoked people to booing fury. In 1947 he opened Moscow's "warmonger" campaign against John Foster Dulles and other Americans. Sudden boos broke out in the Assembly press gallery as Vishinsky spoke. Reporters looked around and saw they came from U. S. Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY). Celler was giving Vishinsky a real American razzberry — but "Vish" kept going.

Another time, Vishinsky described an official report of the U. N. Balkans Commission as a "pile of garbage." Again, he said Western proposals on disarmament were so funny they kept him awake with laughter all night.

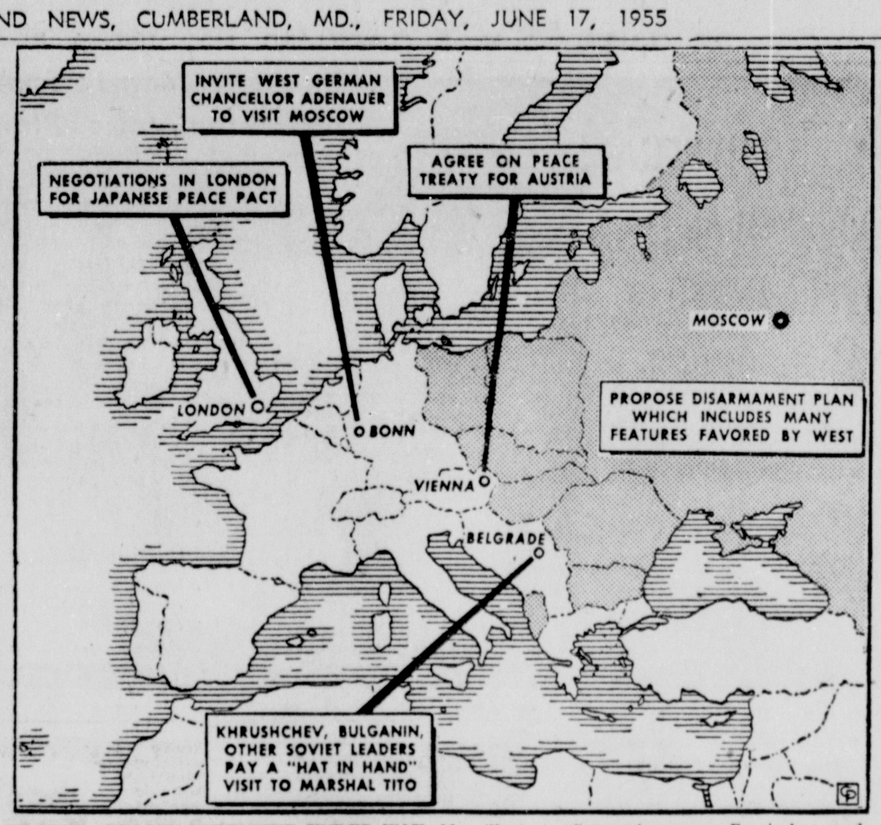
Vishinsky feuded with Trygve Lie until he drove him from the office of secretary general. But in Lie's successor, Dag Hammarskjold, Vishinsky found a man of a different character. Hammarskjold knew what he wanted when Vishinsky came to talk about getting a high U.N. job for a Russian. Hammarskjold, unyielding, gave Vishinsky back, diplomatically, as good as the Russian sent and had his way. Thus he won Vishinsky's respect and kept it until Vishinsky died.

Politics is politics, in the United States or in Russia. Once Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko was enjoying a scotch and soda—the international drink in the U.N. incidentally—when a photographer aimed his camera. Mrs. Gromyko quickly reached over and took the glass out of camera range. Gromyko slipped his hand into his coat, a la Napoleon. After the picture was taken, Mrs. Gromyko returned the drink. Maybe it costs votes in Moscow to be seen drinking.

The U.N. has had its tragedies. There was the assassination of Count Bernadotte of Sweden, the U.N. mediator in Palestine. This was the useless slaughter of a man dedicated to peace. U.N. guards and observers have died in field service.

Tragedy came to U.N. workers personally in November, 1952. While lunching with the foreign minister of Brazil at the Metropolitan Club in New York City, Lie was called to the telephone. He returned much agitated and red of face. He paced the length of the table telling everyone that his legal counsel and very close associate, A. H. Feller, had jumped from the window of his apartment and died. Feller, who probably knew more about the U.N. and its inner and outer workings than anyone on Lie's staff, was worn down by the strains of problems centering upon his office.

Flashbacks of 10 years: Secretary of State Acheson speaking to the U.N. Political Committee for two hours without a note on the intricate Western plan for arms regulations . . . Bernard M. Baruch munching crackers and drinking milk after the U.N. Atomic Energy Commission approved his plan for control of atomic energy, which was to be shelved later. . .Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Britain, scathingly denouncing Communist arguments on Korea a sort of "Alice in Wonderland" fairy tale. . .Herbert V. Evatt of Australia sitting as president of the Assembly in Paris and dodging eggs and tomatoes during a wild demonstration in the usually staid hall. . .The sad, sad case of the Fon of Bikom who has 110 wives, practically all of whom want to continue living with him.



MOSCOW "PEACE" OFFENSIVE UNDER WAY—Map illustrates five major moves Russia has made in the "peace offensive" category since mid-April. Observers theorize that the Soviet wants to win world approval before a meeting "at the summit."

Statistics say that the milkman can use the bottle he leaves at your door about thirty-four times before it's unusable.

Largest hailstone ever measured in the United States fell at Potter, Neb., on July 6, 1928. It weighed one and one-half pounds.

State Farm Women Begin Seminar Phase Of Course

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 16 (AP)—The almost 1,000 "students" at Maryland's College Week for Women split up into groups for the seminar part of their work today and talked about health, safety, teenagers, citizenship and Civil Defense.

Sherley Ewing, Maryland's Civil Defense director and still rumpled from more than 24 hours of continuous duty in connection with "Operation Alert," declared:

"Citizenship is not inherited. It's earned. There is no better way to earn it than by building a strong and active civil defense unit in your community."

Other speakers on the panel also had suggestions for citizenship activities.

Mrs. Fred Bull, president of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers, moderated the discussion and set its keynote when she said "every individual needs to be a living example of the American way of life."

She said a good start would be conscientious voting.

John E. Clark, former Harford County legislator and presently head of the campaign to keep litter off the highways, commended that activity as a good outlet for citizenship.

"We must look upon citizenship as a responsibility, but also as an opportunity to influence and project democratic ideals," he said.

Miss Mildre Dougherty, a field consultant of the Department of Labor, said the 8,000 to 14,000 migrant laborers who come to Maryland each summer to help harvest fruit and vegetable crops constitute a real citizenship problem. They do not stay long, she said. There is little to make them feel a part of the community.

Miss Helen Clark, director of library service for the State Department of Education, explained the workings of the mobile library service. She complained the country spends more each year for comic books than for textbooks in the elementary and secondary grades.

The panel on teen-age problems was led by Dr. Evelyn Mills Duval, Chicago authority on marriage problems and family life, who was the main speaker at the general assembly earlier in the day.

"There have been some very real changes in what men and women look for in each other," she said then.

Husbands these day look for more than a good cook, she said. They want a good companion. Wives want husbands who do more than bring home a pay check and rule the house with an autocratic hand. They want a man who loves and understands, takes an active part in home life, and helps with the children.

The women will have their final classes on Friday and 120 of them will get certificates from Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, for having completed four years of the annual Rural Womens Short Course.

Visiting groups from Homemakers Clubs throughout the state will join in the Friday programs. The main speakers will be Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) and Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald.

Street Cleaner Wins $25,000

SANTA FE, N. M., June 16 (AP)—Ramon and Guadalupe Angel and five little Angels presented pictures of contrast yesterday as Ramon was awarded 25,000 silver dollars—top prize in a national contest.

Ramon, just off work from his job as a city street cleaner, was solemn.

Guadalupe, his wife, was breathless.

But the five Angel children, ranging in ages from 2 to 8, took it all in stride. Little Dorothy, 2, stayed close to the two wheel-barrows full of dollars and calmly stacked the money in neat piles.

Ramon, 34, entered a national sweepstakes contest in April.

The silver dollars, collected from the Denver Federal Reserve Bank, were stacked in 25 bags and weighed 1,562 pounds.

"I'm going to get a good house probably," Angel said.

An official for the Internal Revenue Service said federal tax of about $6,000 would have to be paid on the winnings. State tax would take another little chunk.

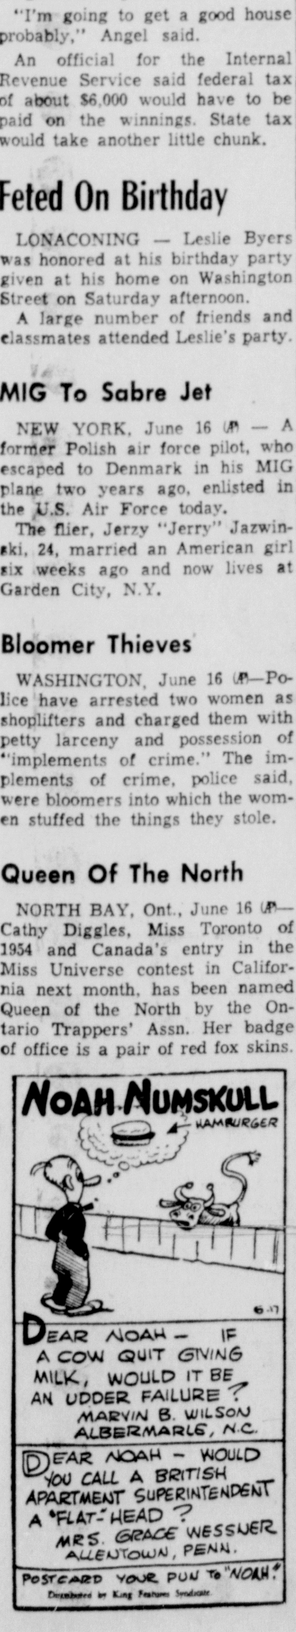
NORTH BAY, Ont., June 16 (AP)—Cathy Diggles, Miss Toronto of 1954 and Canada's entry in the Miss Universe contest in California next month, has been named Queen of the North by the Ontario Trappers' Assn. Her badge of office is a pair of red fox skins.



Chiang Combats Red Infiltration

TAIPEI, Formosa, June 16 (AP)—The offshore island war between the Chinese Nationalists and Communists flares and dies.

But there is one war that never dies on this Nationalist stronghold. That is the one against Communist infiltration and subversion.

Back in 1949, the Communists had an armed underground guerrilla organization of more than 1,000 men on Formosa. That was in the days when the Reds had high hopes of an early invasion.

The Nationalists said this organization was smashed, as were other Communist rings. But some still hold out and others try to slip into this guarded island.

Besides ferreting out Communist agents, the Nationalists also try to encourage surrenders through offers of lenient treatment, guarantees of personal safety and promises of an honest livelihood.

The Peace Preservation Corps, which is responsible for the internal security of Formosa, estimates that 2,035 Communists have surrendered on Formosa since 1950.

Father Held In Pistol Slaying Of His Son

SALISBURY, June 16 (AP)—John Henry Simpson, 43, Negro, of nearby Mardela, was held without bond and charged with the pistol slaying of his 20-year-old son, John Isaac Simpson.

Simpson was accused of shooting the youth last night during an argument over farm work.

State Police said that Simpson prevented his wife, Helen, and their five other children from calling a doctor or police for half an hour after the shooting.

The son was pronounced dead on the scene by Dr. Earl L. Royer, Wicomico County medical examiner.

Hilgenberg Says He Doesn't Want Fisheries Post

BALTIMORE, June 16 (AP)—William F. Hilgenberg, Baltimore seafood businessman, announced today he would not serve his term on the Tidewater Fisheries Commission, and speculation as to who would replace him centered about two Eastern Shoremen.

Hilgenberg said he has decided not to serve because he needs more time to devote to his post as president of the Baltimore City Fire Board.

Mayor D'Alesandro appointed Hilgenberg to the city job recently. Gov. McKeldin named him to the Tidewater Fisheries Commission last February.

Hilgenberg said he had discussed his withdrawal with McKeldin and both were in agreement.

Before Hilgenberg was appointed, Del. Homer White (D-Wicomico) and Levitt Harrison, of Talbot County, were mentioned as possible appointees.

John McNulty, former Anne Arundel County delegate, was also considered a possibility, but McNulty since has become state tobacco inspector. The feeling at Annapolis was that might preclude any possibility of his being appointed to the fisheries post.

Some members of the General Assembly from the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland have been critical of the appointment of Hilgenberg, a Baltimorean.

Had he served, the commission would have been composed of two Baltimoreans, Hilgenberg and Fred B. Glose. The other member is Chairman John P. Tawes of Crisfield, on the Eastern Shore.

Hilgenberg said today his withdrawal could not be considered a resignation since he had not been sworn in to the post.

The TFC post pays $3,000 per year plus travelling and other expenses.

Hub City Mayor Denies Charges

HAGERSTOWN, June 16 (AP) — Mayor Winslow F. Burhans today denied that he has withheld illegally information on the financial condition of the city.

The mayor's denial was contained in an answer to a writ of mandamus seeking to require him to outline the city financial status.

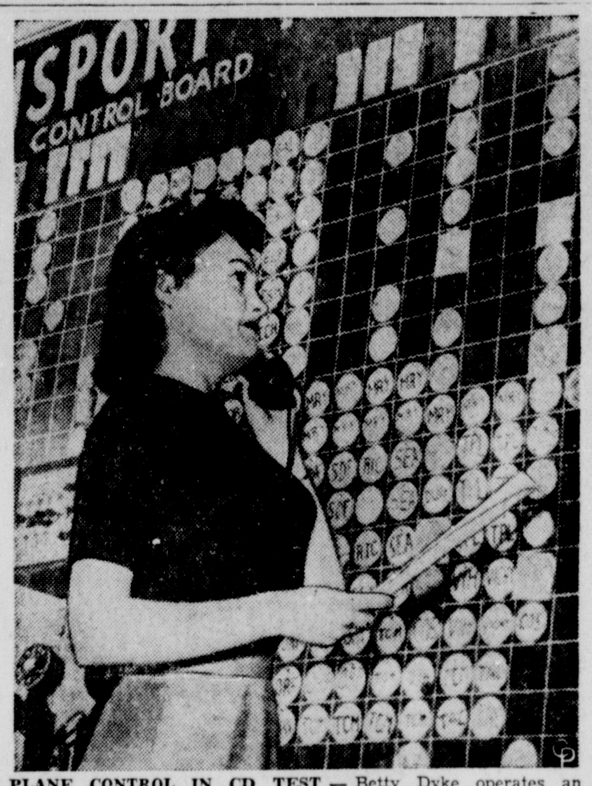
The answer, filed in circuit court, replied to the allegations made by George A. Gerbig, Hagerstown real estate man.

Burhans, through city attorney Edward Oswald, first asserted that Gerbig owned no city property and therefore could not demand such information.

He then said a city auditor was working on a financial reort for the 1954 calendar year but didn't have it finished yet. He denied that any financial information was being withheld.

He said in the answer that figures, estimates on receipts, disbursements and balances for the entire 1954 calendar year were made available last December.

The estimates were disclosed at that time in connection with the compilation of the 1955 budget.



PLANE CONTROL IN CD TEST — Betty Dyke operates an emergency aircraft central control board in Washington during the three-day test of the nation's civil defense facilities in a simulated hydrogen bomb attack. The control board would be used to dispatch transport aircraft on missions assigned by the Civil Defense during an actual attack on the United States.

Grandmother Once Ordered Deported Seeks Citizenship

BALTIMORE, June 16 (AP)—Mrs. Matrona Karpuk, 62-year-old grandmother who successfully resisted an attempt to deport her to her native Poland two months ago, applied today for United States citizenship.

There was a slight hitch in the proceedings as she submitted the application to Lester Cook, examiner for the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Warren Weinberger, her attorney, expressed indignation for a few moments when he learned Mrs. Karpuk, whose loyalty to this country had been challenged and later affirmed, must undergo a two-hour examination touching on the same question.

"That I did not understand and will not put up with," he told John J. Murray, acting officer in charge of the service's Baltimore office.

But after a conference with Murray behind closed doors Weinberger indicated to reporters he was convinced the naturalization office was doing its best to expedite Mrs. Karpuk's application.

The little, Polish-born woman was ordered deported last year after a service hearing officer was told she had attended six Communits meetings about 20 years ago. She denied it.

John V. Carney, who presided at the hearing, issued the order but was overruled last April by a Board of Immigration Appeals.

Body Of Second Boat Sinking Victim Found

DARLINGTON, Md., June 16 (AP)—The body of 28-year-old Lawrence C. Dietz of Fullerton—one of two men drowned last week when their boat sank in the Susquehanna River—was recovered today.

Dr. C. A. Heumas, deputy medical examiner for Harford County, said Dietz' body was found by fishermen.

The body of Charles H. Kuhns, 42, of Baltimore, had been recovered yesterday. A third member of the fishing party, Miles E. Steinger of Middle River, was rescued by other fishermen when the boat went down.

State Police said the boat was sunk in a storm after one of the three men threw the bow anchor out to help prevent drifting.

Adenauer's Reference To "Law Of Communicating Vessels" Provokes Mystery

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has left behind him in Washington a minor politico-scientific mystery:

What is "the law of communicating vessels" to which he referred in a talk here?

There is even some suspicion—fed by the poker-faced Chancellor's obvious amusement at his hearers' mystification—that there isn't any such law of physics; at least, as one physicist put it, "not in the United States."

Adenauer started it all when he told a gathering of newsmen Tuesday "It is important to recognize the fact that in the Atlantic and in the Pacific the adversary is the same."

Let the adversary withdraw strength from one area, Adenauer went on, and it will show up as increased strength in the other. And he concluded:

"In this context certainly the law of communicating vessels is applicable."

A reporter promptly asked that Adenauer, or one of the two chemist-diplomats present, explain the law.

It isn't a chemical law, Adenauer replied with an obvious twinkle, it's a physical law.

That gave U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant his cue. "Out of my field," said the onetime president of Harvard University. And German Ambassador Heinz L. Krekeler, the other chemist on hand, contributed only a smile and a shrug.

So, with the Chancellor out of town, the question was put today to that great friend of curious Washingtonians, the Library of Congress.

Offhand, the library's available science man couldn't recall any law of that name. But, he added tactfully, scientists use different terms in different countries and maybe the Chancellor was just talking about the easily demonstrated fact that when you connect two vessels containing liquids, the level in each is affected by the level in the other.

Or again, said the library spokesman, the Chancellor could have been talking in terms of pressures. Confine two liquids in tightly closed cylinders fitted with pistons, connect these and pressure you apply to one will be transmitted to the other at the same rate per square inch.

It seemed like time to start over with the basic question, put this time at the Bureau of Standards.

"Law of communicating vessels" rang no bells immediately there. But after a brief huddle of physicists, one said it sounded a lot like a principle used in gas chemistry—connect a vessel containing gas with another vessel and the gas diffuses itself evenly throughout both.

He wondered if the Chancellor could have meant that the world's dangers are diffused evenly all over.

Xenophobia is the word to describe anyone who hates foreigners.

Adenauer's Reference To "Law Of Communicating Vessels" Provokes Mystery

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has left behind him in Washington a minor politico-scientific mystery:

What is "the law of communicating vessels" to which he referred in a talk here?

There is even some suspicion—fed by the poker-faced Chancellor's obvious amusement at his hearers' mystification—that there isn't any such law of physics; at least, as one physicist put it, "not in the United States."

Adenauer started it all when he told a gathering of newsmen Tuesday "It is important to recognize the fact that in the Atlantic and in the Pacific the adversary is the same."

Let the adversary withdraw strength from one area, Adenauer went on, and it will show up as increased strength in the other. And he concluded:

"In this context certainly the law of communicating vessels is applicable."

A reporter promptly asked that Adenauer, or one of the two chemist-diplomats present, explain the law.

It isn't a chemical law, Adenauer replied with an obvious twinkle, it's a physical law.

That gave U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant his cue. "Out of my field," said the onetime president of Harvard University. And German Ambassador Heinz L. Krekeler, the other chemist on hand, contributed only a smile and a shrug.

So, with the Chancellor out of town, the question was put today to that great friend of curious Washingtonians, the Library of Congress.

Offhand, the library's available science man couldn't recall any law of that name. But, he added tactfully, scientists use different terms in different countries and maybe the Chancellor was just talking about the easily demonstrated fact that when you connect two vessels containing liquids, the level in each is affected by the level in the other.

Or again, said the library spokesman, the Chancellor could have been talking in terms of pressures. Confine two liquids in tightly closed cylinders fitted with pistons, connect these and pressure you apply to one will be transmitted to the other at the same rate per square inch.

It seemed like time to start over with the basic question, put this time at the Bureau of Standards.

"Law of communicating vessels" rang no bells immediately there. But after a brief huddle of physicists, one said it sounded a lot like a principle used in gas chemistry—connect a vessel containing gas with another vessel and the gas diffuses itself evenly throughout both.

He wondered if the Chancellor could have meant that the world's dangers are diffused evenly all over.

Xenophobia is the word to describe anyone who hates foreigners.

Market Manages To Score Another New Record High

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP) — The stock market edged up to another new record high mark today but had some trouble doing it.

Aircrafts and nonferrous metals had the biggest hand in sending the market ahead, but their performance was dimmed by late selling. Railroads were down at the close after spending most of the day with only a slight gain. The steels at one time were well ahead, but they closed mixed. that was the situation with most major divisions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up only 10 cents at $170.70. The rise today sent the average to another new record high mark, the seventh in the last nine sessions. The industrials were up 50 cents but the railroads were down 50 cents while the utilities remained unchanged.

F. L. Jacobs was the day's most active issue off ¼ at 8¾. It traded a total of 96,300 shares including one block of 77,000 shares at 8. It was followed by Ashland Oil up 1¼ at 16⅜, Bell Aircraft up 1⅝ at 30¾, ACF Brill up ¼ at 9, and Colorado Fuel & Iron up ⅜ at 26⅝.

Among stocks advancing were Rheem up 2, American Tobacco ⅝, American Cyanamid 1⅝, U. S. Smelting 1⅜, Kennecott Copper 2-⅛, American Telephone ⅛, Bethlehem Steel ¼, General Motors 1¼, Douglas Aircraft 1⅛, Lockheed ¾, Philco 58, Baltimore & Ohio ⅝, Studebaker-Packard ⅛, and Coca-Cola 2⅛.

The expression "to be in the limelight" comes from the theater where lime was once used in the footlights of a stage because it burned with a bright glow.

January is named for the ancient Roman god Janus, who had two heads—one looking back to the old year and one looking forward to the new one.

"Roll Call," Folksy Paper About Congressmen And Staffs, Appears On Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP) — Something new was added to the Capitol Hill community today: A newspaper written by, and about, congressmen and their staffs.

The first issue of Roll Call rolled off the press, and from it one can get the answer to such folksy questions as:

What did Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) say to the wife of Rep. George Huddleston Jr. (D-La)?

What reaction did Rep. James Tumulty (D-NJ) have to the congressional baseball game?

What is the color of that new car belonging to Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex)?

What did the 6-year-old son of Rep. Clifton Young (R-Nev) say after a visit to Tom Jefferson's old home, Monticello?

The paper is the idea of Sidney L. Yudain, 32-year-old special assistant to Rep. Albert P. Morano (R-Conn). He noticed that congressmen often didn't even know other congressmen were ill, and that their assistants didn't know what each other was up to.

Why not a nonpartisan community paper?

The result isn't merely a hodgepodge of chitchat by any means. The lead story deals with "Dramatic Refugee Shipment Planned, Over 1,100 to Arrive in New York."

"I've been sitting on this story for a week," editor-ad salesman-delivery boy Yudain said. "Scared to death someone else would break it."

The main illustration of the five-column paper is a three - column picture of Rep. Joe Martin (R-Mass) with eight high - stepping girls in shorts, the chorus line of the Congressional Secretaries Club annual variety show.

"A picture of girls helps any paper," said Yudain, who spent some time in Hollywood before joining Morano. "The girls have been having a tough time selling tickets. This ought to get 'em booming."

The paper includes several by-line stories by congressmen, including one headlined, "I Was Robbed," by Rep. Don Hayworth (D-Mich), who was held up, right on the Capitol lawn.

Most community papers depend on homey items to keep the interest of their readers, and Roll Call appears to be no exception.

So, to those folksy questions.

Rayburn knew George Huddleston Sr. during the 22 years he was in Congress. So when Mrs. George Jr. mentioned they were expecting another child, Mr. Sam said:

"Honey, I knew your husband before he was born."

Tumulty on the way congressmen play baseball: "If Abner Doubleday knew this was going to happen, he wouldn't have invented the game."

City Garbage Hearing Held In Court Here

Judge Harris Will Issue Decision

During the hearing yesterday in Circuit Court on a demurrer by the City of Cumberland against an injunction suit brought by a taxpayer in connection with the readvertising of bids for the collection of garbage, a number of "searching" questions were asked by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

When the arguments by City Solicitor Thomas B. Finan reached the point where it was stated the city wanted to readvertise for bids on the garbage work so as to include the provision of pickup service, Judge Harris inquired if such service was something new.

"Or is it a question of somebody down at City Hall not liking the low bidder," Judge Harris stated. The jurist also stated that the contract had been advertised and now should not be "kicked around or bartered until some favorite of City Hall gets the contract."

Another Comment

At another point during the hearing Judge Harris commented that the pickup service included in the proposed new bids would be done by the low bidder as suggested in a letter to the city. This letter is part of the matter which Clarence Lippel, attorney for the complainant, states he will use in his argument.

The suit against the city was filed several weeks ago by George W. Martin, 619 St. Mary's Avenue, a taxpayer. Judge Harris signed a temporary restraining order at that time preventing the city from readvertising for garbage bids.

Finan argued that under a number of opinions rendered in similar cases in Maryland, notably in Baltimore City, that the complainant, Martin, could not qualify to bring suit against the city as no allegation of specific damage to him had been made.

Finan said that Emmett A. Dougherty, the low bidder on the garbage contract, did not file suit against the city. The taxpayer has to show injury in order to qualify under the law governing such cases, Finan declared.

Finan outlined the procedure followed in the garbage contract dispute. He said the mayor and council had received four bids to give garbage service to the city. As is customary in such matters the question of the bids was referred to William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property, whose department handles the garbage program.

On April 18 an order was prepared rejecting all of the bids and a decision was made by the mayor and council to readvertise for bids. The new bids would provide for pickup service and also for payment of the prevailing wage rates in the same classifications as city employes.

Finan explained that the pickup service included the additional service in cases where there was an unusual amount of garbage at residences and business houses or where a dead animal was found on a street or in an alley.

Observed Previously

Judge Harris asked if the two provisions had been in previous contracts and Finan said they had not been but were customarily observed. The city attorney also said the problem of this additional service often caused trouble in the past and city officials were often called by residents making complaints pertaining to dead animals on the streets or unusual amounts of garbage which needed hauling away.

Lippel commented that Dougherty had contract for a five-year period at one time and carried out this extra service. Lippel wrote city council recently that the extension of the contract currently held by John J. Riley and Son for 90 days (until July 30) is illegal. He said the contract can only be awarded under competititve bidding and therefore is illegal.

Judge Harris said he will not make a decision in the case until some time later.

Driver Escapes Injury

Samuel Salvatore Dano, 45, of Paca Street, escaped injury yesterday morning when the car he was driving struck a telephone pole in the 700-block Greene Street. He identified himself as a "jockey agent." No charges were filed.

Jackson Reviews Fireworks Ban

Charles S. Jackson, insurance commissioner of Maryland, in noting the approach of July 4 has called attention to the fact that all fireworks within the state are forbidden unless approval has been obtained from his office.

Under the law, fireworks of every description are banned, Jackson said. It specifically bans the use of firecrackers, squibs, rockets, sparklers, Roman candles, combustible or explosive composition. No section of the state is exempt from operation of this law, and any person violating it by possessing, discharging or selling fireworks is guilty of a misdemeanor, the insurance commissioner said.

Permits for special displays of fireworks can be authorized when the application is made at least ten days in advance, and when it is ascertained that the display will not endanger the safety and health of persons in the locality or cause danger to the property of others. These requirements are set out in the Maryland statutes which also require the filing of a certificate of insurance made payable to the insurance commissioner in an amount prescribed by him and to be held as collateral in the event of injury to any persons, or damage to any property.

Urge Safe Driving

A proclamation naming the period from Memorial Day week through Labor Day as "Slow Down and Live Program" was approved by the Mayor and Council.

Approval of the 100-day program brought from Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan the comment: "Can't we add the other 265 days?"

Three Veteran County Teachers Announce Retirement

The retirement of three veteran Allegany County school teachers, whose total service amounts to 140 years, was announced yesterday by Ralph R. Webster, county superintendent of schools.

Retiring at the end of this school year were Miss Mary Hanna, commercial teacher at Bruce High School; Mrs. Bertha Conner Low, Fourth Grade teacher at Columbia Street School, and Miss Loretta Hannon, reading teacher at Beall High School.

Miss Hanna began here career in the public schools in 1905 at Luke School where she taught until 1908. She was located in Westernport from 1908 to 1912. Miss Hanna attended college during the school year of 1912-13, and upon her return was assigned to Bruce High School, where she has taught shorthand, typing and bookkeeping until her retirement.

Mrs. Low was at Westernport elementary school from 1913 to 1916, and from 1916 to 1919 she was at Jackson School, Lonaconing. In 1919 she began her long duty at Columbia Street School.

Miss Hannon started teaching at Barrellville where she was located from 1906 to 1911. From 1911 to 1915, she was at Shaft, and from 1915 to 1919, at Hill Street.

Between 1920 and 1930, Miss Hannon was at Beall Elementary School, and from 1930 to 1932, at Eckhart School. Since 1932 she has been reading teacher at Beall High School.

Speed Blamed For Race Car Crash

LE MANS, France, June 16 (AP)—Lance Macklin, British racing driver whose car was involved in a collision that claimed 79 lives Saturday, said yesterday the "real responsibility was the speed of our cars."

He testified before Magistrate Zadock Kahn, who is investigating the accident.

Macklin's Austin Healey was struck by a Mercedes Benz driven by Pierre Levegh in the Le Mans race. Levegh's car catapulted into the crowd and exploded, killing Levegh.

A Jaguar driven by Mike Hawthorn, eventual winner of the race, had sought to pass Macklin.

"After passing me," Macklin testified, "Hawthorn turned too sharply toward the right and braked. In turn, I braked my car as hard as I could to avoid him. My wheels locked and I was carried toward the left. Levegh's car hit the back of my car. I was spun around.

"I saw the Mercedes knocked aside, and you know the rest . . ."

Asked if he thought Hawthorn was responsible for the accident, Macklin replied:

"In an affair of this kind it is difficult to speak of responsibility. Hawthorn no doubt committed an error but the real responsibility was the speed of our cars."

The cars were traveling from 125 to 150 miles per hour when the accident occurred.

Bone up on your grooming, teen-ager!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

You know love isn't something that you can turn on and off like a faucet. The same holds true for good grooming. There's nothing more disappointing than an unscheduled ring at your doorbell by a three-letter-man and you wishing you could sink through the floor because you never looked more like a drip. It doesn't matter how many alibis you invent for your appearance, there's not much you can do to ease the sting—except a sense of humor and good manners so he'll feel at home. Otherwise he would suffer with you, and no boy intentionally runs into a sad sack.

Looking your best at all times doesn't mean you have to be dressed up like you were ready to step out for a Friday night dance. It's just that we don't want you to forget your grooming until just before a date. The ol' beauty routine has to be a day in and day out proposition. Successful Power's Girls have found this out.

Any girl's complexion can be improved with daily cleansing, subtle make-up, exercise, fresh air, and a well-balanced diet. Nearly every head of hair responds to daily brushing, frequent shampoos, a becoming style, and a soft permanent wave. Any girl's figure will improve if she exercises and watches her diet and posture. General good health—and that means plenty of sleep and keeping happy—will give her eyes a sparkle and her popularity rating a lift. If you need help, send for a trio of my booklets: "Do You Measure Up?", "Summerizing Your Beauty," and "Your Posture." Write to me in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for each booklet.

Raid Alert Compared With Real Thing Of Decade Ago

The writer of the following story was a war correspondent attached to the Associated Press Bureau in London in World War II. He thus is in a position to compare Wednesday's test alert with many a real-life bombing.

By WILMOT HERCHER

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—I was out in front of the White House, parading with the tourists, when the sirens went off yesterday.

The warning wails carried me back 11 years to London, where I listened to the British version of the same while scuttling down Whitehall and past No. 10 Downing St., the Prime Minister's residence.

To me there was one striking similarity. When the sirens stopped punishing the air and a sort of silence descended—both here and in London—there was a strong sense of something significant impending.

The similarity ended there.

London's silence was broken first by antiaircraft guns along the Thames and then by the "rump-rump" sound of Nazi planes and the crash of bombs.

In Washington, the roar of traffic took over.

On this sunny day in the nation's capital, while government evacuation was being practiced on a grand scale, sidewalk salesmen continued their spiels and many shoppers hardly moved their noses from display windows.

You had to be sharp to see President Eisenhower stride from the White House and depart in a six-car motorcade. He led 15,000 government workers from Washington to secret relocation areas in nearby states.

Treasury and State Department buildings in the area opened their doors at once to emit an orderly stream of workers who walked to their cars in a limited phase of the evacuation plan. Men and women designated as group drivers had large placards pinned to their chests. Air raid wardens wore arm bands. There was very little horseplay.

The whole idea of today's exercise was to get out—out of the target buildings, out of the target city—to hidden headquarters in the countryside.

But in London, during that old-fashioned war, the big idea was to get in. Except in the days of buzz bombs and rockets, when alerts sometimes lasted for 24 hours, an air raid warning cleared the streets of all but official traffic.

Pedestrians headed at once for shelter, doorways if nothing else, to get out from under the sky and its rain of bombs and antiaircraft shrapnel. Tin-hatted constables and wardens had no patience with loiterers.

The British government never left London during World War II, even though the House of Commons was bombed out and the M.P.'s had to borrow another hall to meet in. Evacuation plans were prepared for the government but never executed.

Civil Defense authorities are planning differently in today's era o. mass destruction weapons.

Tourists strolled through the White House as usual this morning, but the gates were closed early, at 11:45 a. m., to prepare for the mock air raid signal some 20 minutes later. The White House grounds were cleared by 11:53.

Some of the tourists continued to patrol the sidewalks, waiting for the signal and the chance to catch a glimpse of the President leaving. They listened to the sirens and watched without comment, for the most part, the emptying of the buildings.

A large part of the domestic staff of the White House, some in chefs' caps and aprons, lined up outside the east entrance, near the cars they would use in an evacuation.

Yes, it was different from the old days. The main thing was that there were no bombs. I was very glad of that.

Delinquency Requires More Than Woodsheds

Did the "woodshed" ever prevent juvenile delinquency? Possibly. But inmates of institutions for delinquents have had their full share of beatings. The woodshed is hardly the panacea its advocates imagine it to be.

Delinquency has many causes, and many weapons are needed to prevent or cure the individuals it threatens. Talk about taking 'em to the woodshed, as if it were a panacea, is too often a substitute for other forms of thinking and constructive action.

Novelist John Steinbeck, writing in the Saturday Review, illustrates this. Steinbeck points out some of the virtues of delinquents—virtues perverted by a bad cause, but virtues all the same. A juvenile delinquent is loyal—to the gang. He is responsible or courageous where the gang expects it of him. The gang gives him a sense of belonging. He takes honor from its victories and shame from its defeats. He protects it and is protected by it.

And then Steinbeck offers his flash of insight: "The family was once a thing like that." It claimed loyalty and courage from its members. It meant all for one and one for all. It was a protection for the individual and something for the individual to protect. It demanded that its members be as responsible as they were mature. For Steinbeck says:

"There is a terrible need in people to be responsible . . . They resist assuming responsibility, but they cannot get along without it."

So, Steinbeck thinks, the family is not doing its job when juveniles seeking a focus for their virtues and needs can find no better substitute than a gang. If the family is failing as a framework for individual virtues and group loyalties, there is a greater sickness in society than a wilderness of woodsheds can heal.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Geneva And Yalta

As the date, July 18, approaches for the "at the summit" conference, at Geneva, it is impossible not to dwell on Yalta which set the pattern for such meetings of the mighty. We do not quite know what happened at Teheran; that is still secret. Yalta must be in the minds of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, when they play down the significance of the forthcoming conference and seek to limit it. They seem to say to the American people, "Do not expect too much."

Yalta was a wicked meeting at which pragmatic gentlemen determined the course of history for perhaps a century without the lodestar of public or private morals. They did what they did. That is all.

Professor G. F. Hudson of Oxford describes it this way:

". . . The problem for the historian is to discover the assumptions, motive and calculations in the minds of those who came to these decisions, and in this respect the policy of the British representatives at Yalta is considerably less intelligible than that of either the Soviet or the American leaders. It is fairly plain what Stalin wanted—which was in the main identical with what he got. The aspirations and purposes of Roosevelt are somewhat less clear, but there is a great deal of evidence on his state of mind at the time, and given the extraordinary delusions which he cherished with regard to the nature of the Soviet regime, his general attitude at Yalta affords no cause for astonishment. Churchill, on the other hand, appears to have had a far better understanding of the trend of events in Europe, and in view of the fact that British interests at that time were much more at stake than American in the continental balance of power, the British position in the Yalta negotiations is indeed hard to comprehend."

Churchill once explained to me his difficulty in these words:

"We were a dependent people." As one reads the published version of the Yalta conference, it would appear that Roosevelt united with Stalin against Churchill, and Churchill was helpless because his country was at war and these were his allies. He might have walked out of Yalta in protest, but what would have become of his country which was in a state of siege, protected by the United States? So he stayed and signed. He may even have been ashamed. Who knows?

At Geneva, Eisenhower will have to deal either with Bulganin, the No. 2 man of the Russian hierarchy, or Khrushchev, the boss. Bulganin will be correct in his conduct, carefully briefed, functioning according to instructions. Should Khruschev come to Geneva, Eisenhower will meet an astute politician who worked his way up from a miner in the days of Stalin when living was dangerous. Those who view Khrushchev as a clown because of his pursuit of those things which come naturally to him, in Yugoslavia, and who therefore think him weaker than the dour, smileless Russians whom they have heretofore encountered, appraise the man incorrectly.

Khrushchev could not have moved up through all the impediments and road blocks of Russian political life, in the time of Stalin, were he not astute and tricky and sure of foot. Had it been otherwise, he would have lost his head. Those who survived the purges are men who struggled toward the sun and got there despite all attempts to keep them down. From a Marxian standpoint, they are the survival of the fittest.

Khrushchev is different from others in that he reached the summit not by political selection or accident but by his own genius in the manipulation of the Communist apparatus. Stalin's heirs were Malenkov, Beria and Molotov. Where are they now? Beria was caught maneuvering and was killed. Malenkov was reduced to the lowest position in the Presidium, but was permitted to live because he accepted blame for errors that Khrushchev made. Molotov has been reduced to a nonentity and is about to be retired to the noble role of an elder statesman.

Khrushchev found it necessary to have only one of those who stood in his way killed. The other two he handled with gentle astuteness. But he did handle them and he reached the top. Maybe one of the purposes of the Yugoslavia visit was to display to the outside world who is the boss, lest some mistake title for reality.

We'd Better Start Taking This Thing Seriously

Clare Boothe Luce Making Backstage Bid To Run For GOP Vice President

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It's supposed to be a political secret, but Clare Boothe Luce, our glamorous ambassador to Italy, is making a backstage bid for the GOP vice presidential nomination. She believes it's time for a woman to become President of the United States and confided her plans to House GOP Leader Joe Martin at length the other day.

The vivacious Mrs. Luce, who is doing a good job in Italy of late, rushed home from Rome ostensibly to report on the Italian government's alarming left-wing swing. While here, however, she dropped in to see ex-Speaker Joe Martin, who used to give her fatherly advice when she was in Congress.

Mrs. Luce had let it be known during the 1952 Republican convention that she was available for the vice presidency. But she entered the race so late that few politicians took her seriously. This time, she told Martin, she intends to start early.

She argued that the Republican party needs a woman on the ticket to attract women voters. She made it clear, in any case, that she would be a candidate in 1956 for the vice presidential nomination. It was taken for granted that her husband's powerful magazines, Time, Life and Fortune, would support her.

Joe Martin is an earthy, practical politician, not easily dazzled by glamor. He also has tremendous influence inside Republican circles. It is newsworthy, therefore, that he agreed a lady vice president might have voter appeal. He also promised to do what he could to help Mrs. Luce.

Though their conversation was supposed to be secret, word of it leaked to the GOP National Committee. Most party leaders let it be known privately that they couldn't see Mrs. Luce as vice president. If any woman should get the nomination, they argued, it should be Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

This could lead to a hot convention fight next year between the two ladies if the Republican high command decides to go for a lady for second place. It might also lead to the nomination and election of a Catholic for vice president for the first time in history—Mrs. Luce having been converted to the Catholic faith while a member of Congress.

Mrs. Luce's candidacy would also solve one of the problems tending to cause dissension in the Republican party—Vice President Nixon. A great many party leaders, among them the powerful Knight-Knowland contingent of California, are vigorously opposed to his renomination.

Air Force Glass

"Uneasy rests the head who tries to build an Air Force academy." That is the commiseration being handed to the man at the head of the Air Force today—fast-talking, hard-working, big GOP money-raising, bridge-playing Harold Talbott.

For it looks as if Talbott would have to draw his Air Force academy plans all over again. Congressmen even intimate that the "West Point of the Air Force" won't be located at Colorado Spring after all—though this seems much less likely.

At any rate, Secretary Talbott has called a meeting for next Monday (June 20) to go into the whole thing and may well end in tearing up the architectural drawings of the institution which Frank Lloyd Wright has already dubbed "Talbott's Aviary" and a "Factory for Birdmen."

Certain congressmen have not been so public about it, but in off-the-record meetings they have been just as vocal.

"It looks like a bunch of teepees pulled together," remarked Congressman Porter Hardy of Virginia when he saw the proposed Air Force church, which looked like a cross between a many-peaked modern hangar and an Aztec temple.

"Maybe," remarked Congressman Eddie Hebert of Louisiana, "It was designed by an accordion player."

"Okay," surrendered the secretary for air, "we'll change it."

That much has already been decided. However, more drastic changes are in the works, to be decided at the June 20 meeting.

Too Much Glass for Brass

Drawings for the new West Point of the Air Force academy also feature glass. Critics, and they include masonry and brick lobbies which don't welcome the advent of glass in modern architecture, claim that the Lever Building required $250,000 of special scaffolding to get the windows washed, plus the use of higher-paid scaffolding men rather than window-washers.

Referring to Talbott's "Glass Aviary" Congressman Hebert, a member of the Armed Services Committee, says:

"It would take all the window cleaners in New York to clean the glass architecture of the original design."

In addition, critics point out that the air-cooling bill for the academy would be terrific in Colorado's summertime 97-degree temperature, while the heating bill for Colorado's cold winters would be even more expensive—all as a result of too much glass.

Also, claim the critics, the aluminum exteriors vibrate badly.

Air Football

So, there just doesn't seem to be anything good about the Air Force Academy plans, according to critical members of the House Armed Services Committee. That, however, isn't all. Here's the worst news for Secretary Talbott: The Air Force football team may suffer.

Air Force brass are worried over the possibility that rival teams won't come to Colorado Springs to play in the high Rocky Mountain altitudes. They wonder also whether many top football players can be seduced into the Air Force Academy in view of the altitude. And what, after all, would a rival to Annapolis and West Point be like without a football team?

"Finally," says Congressman Hebert, "the taxpayers will have to shell out $165,000 a year every year, just for piping water over a mountain to supply the school."

Foreign Secretaries Undertake Diplomatic Exploration

By David Lawrence

NEW YORK—This is the beginning of the greatest exploration that diplomacy has experienced in our times. With every earnestness and sincerity the foreign secretaries of Great Britain, France and the United States are seeking a way to peace.

In a few days, at San Francisco, Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov will join the conversations which are to pave the way for the big meeting "at the summit." But unless there is something tangible forthcoming at the Four-Power conference of the foreign ministers it is likely that the session to be participated in later by President Eisenhower, Marshal Bulganin of Soviet Russia, Premier Faure of France and Prime Minister Eden of Great Britain will be only a gesture of outward friendship without any real progress toward peace.

Cold War Worldwide

There is no secret about what the three Western governments want. They want a secure peace and not a piece of paper with lofty language. To get a secure peace, there must be an end to war. This means there must be an end to the "cold war."

The "cold war" is worldwide. The Soviet regime uses international communism to penetrate the territories of other countries and seeks the overthrow of governments as well as institutions. There can be no trust—no feeling of safety—while international communism is unrestrained.

Back in 1933 the Soviet government gave its solemn pledge to the United States government that it would refrain from imposing international communism within our borders. This promise has been repeatedly violated. Recognition was extended on the basis of these Soviet pledges. America is back to the same fundamentals today.

Since 1945 Communist imperialism has spread its authority over many hundreds of millions of people and, although 10 years have elapsed since hostilities ceased on the Western front, the Soviet has not been willing to declare the state of war at an end.

Instead, small countries like Poland and Czechoslovakia which were promised their independence have been converted into Soviet colonies. Communist colonialism has robbed the people of their freedom and given them puppet governments controlled from Moscow with an elaborate military apparatus.

Intention Must Be Sincere

The press dispatches from Moscow says the Soviet government doesn't want to talk about the status of the satellite states and isn't anxious to discuss the problem of a reunified Germany. But how can there be a secure peace if there is a belt of undefended states across Eastern Europe through which the Red armies can march at any moment and threaten the peace of the Western countries?

These questions can be resolved without much trouble if the Soviet government really means to make peace in Europe. But if it's just a game — a maneuver to retain military control while at the same time offering to "relax tension"—then the attitude of the Soviet government will become transparently clear after a few exchanges of views.

In the past Mr. Molotov has usually been unwilling to make any substantial concessions on anything. He expects the other side to trade with him but he offers only a few crumbs—like the release of prisoners who ought never to have been kept in captivity so long anyway.

The eyes of the world are fixed on the forthcoming conferences with the Soviet and judging by the preparations which have been made thus far the United States, Great Britain and France are not going to adopt either a belligerent or a craven attitude but will lay the facts on the table. Those facts tell the story of why there is a "cold war."

It's a simple story and an old one—the thirst for power by autocracy. This time it is tied into a fanatical ideology with a conspiracy that reaches around the globe. The Soviets can end the "cold war" because they started it. They know what is involved. And the whole world knows it too. The Communists are on the spot, for they have claimed they want peace. They now have a chance to demonstrate their intentions by concrete evidence of a desire to withdraw their forces and their agents back to Soviet Russia and let the rest of the world alone.

Only then will peace be secure.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Senator Bricker is still doing sentry duty on the executive dotted line. He wants to limit any president's international signature to passport pictures on park lake swan-boats.

That means another blow-out patch on the Constitution without affecting Yalta or any other whystation.

One thing to remember about diplomacy or draw poker is you always have to include the discard in the next deal.

We know the Yalta document shouldn't have lasted longer than a strange cat in a butcher shop.

But there it is and salt won't change the flavor. If Senator Bricker wants to shrink the circumference of executive authority let him remember the weakest link in a string of sausages is still good eating.

Here's the spot in the Constitution where the parliamentary loophole throws a figure eight. It's Paragraph 2, Section 2, and goes thisaway, "He shall have power, by and with the consent of the Senate to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur."

That word "present" is weaker than a newborn baby's ankles.

Instead of tying knots in the tail of the Constitution how about an appendectomy on that paragraph?

It means by "present" that three senators can be a working quorum. And two of them can ratify a treaty.

There are 96 desk sergeants in the U. S. Senate. And Paragraph 2, Section 2, means 64 of them, present or accounted for.

But when the Foundering Fathers stuck in that word "present" they put the pie on the window-sill.

We recommend the details to Senator Bricker. If he wonders what I know about legislation let him remember you don't have to take music lessons to kick a bag of sleigh-bells.

Another Air Show

By Joseph Alsop

(NOTE: Having obtained a Soviet visa by writing personally to Nikita Khrushchev, Stewart Alsop has just left for a month's tour in Russia. Joseph Alsop will be writing from Washington until his brother begins to report from Moscow.)

WASHINGTON

The American intelligence experts are waiting with distinctly bated breaths for the reports on a special air show that the Soviets have promised to stage in Moscow over the weekend. The advance billings justify a high measure of nervous anticipation.

In the first place, the deeply alarming array of planes shown at the usual Moscow air show in May were all in mass production already. Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has made himself the laughing stock of the Air Force and the aircraft industry by suggestin gthat the already-exhibited jet bombers and supersonic fighters were mere Soviet prototypes. No nation on earth makes prototypes by the score.

The failure to include any prototypes in the May show leads to the natural conclusion that the special June showing—in itself an altogether novel event—is meant to present important new prototype aircraft in the most dramatic manner possible.

Teasing Preview

The Russians themselves have pointed towards this probability in two different ways. A day or so ago, a kind of teasing preview was allowed in Moscow of a wholly new, twin-rotor, large size helicopter, suitable for troop transport. It is believed to have been a prototype. In addition, members of an official delegation to Soviet air engineers at the Canadian International Trade Fair have just given a strikingly interesting interview to a correspondent of Aviation Week. The Russians stated roundly:

"The Air demonstration over Moscow will display aeronautical models more advanced than those seen before."

If this is true, and if the new models are in imoprtant categories, we are probably due for another shock that may even shake the seemingly unshakable complacency of Secretary Wilson. It would seem foolishly anti-climactic to stage a special air show to exhibit relatively unimportant advances. Hence highly significant new models are on the whole expected to appear in the Moscow air.

The betting concentrates on two different types. The Bison, which is the Soviet equivalent of our B-52 heavy, long-range jet bomber, has some marks of an interim design. There is a queer contrast, for example, between the Bison's swept-back wings and straight tail. Hence the foreign observers in Moscow will not be surprised if a substantially improved version of the Bison is now shown off.

Again, the new Russian supersonic, all-weather fighters that were shown in a flight of 30 in May did not appear to be quite up to the quality of our own F-102. They are materially better than our F-94C, the best all-weather fighter we now have in service in the American air defense system. But they are not as good as the Russians must want them to be. Hence a new and better all-weather Soviet fighter is also being anxiously watched for.

The betting on these particular models may of course be altogether wrong, and the claims of the Soviet engineers in Toronto may of course be ridiculously exaggerated. If the Soviets rack up important new advances in air design, however, it will be time for the most hucksterish of the Pentagon's pet hucksters to stop twaddling about the "American lead."

Design Even

On the showing to date, Soviet air design has drawn even with our own. Soviet development time seems to be materially shorter than American development time. The American lead consists wholly in a number of aircraft already in being—the B-47 fleet to be specific. And in the other types which the Soviets showed in early May, the lead belongs to them in every case except that of the jet bombers. They have 10 Bisons in the air, against about 30 B-52s already off the production line in this country. But in the different classes of advanced fighters, they have reached the stage of mass production whereas we really have not.

The question remains as to what the Soviet motive may be. Why do they exhibit the best they have as publicly as possible — almost rubbing our noses in it, in fact—when here in Washington we are in the grip of an unprecedented campaign of censorship? Part of the answer is a probable explanation of both these contrasting phenomena in Moscow and Washington. The Soviets now feel that they are gaining the edge on us, are proud of it, and want to prove it.

Irritable Colon Syndrome Causes Abdominal Distress

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The irritable colon syndrome is the most frequent cause of abdominal distress. At least 45 per cent of those with intestinal complaints have this condition and, with proper treatment, three out of four can expect improvement.

The majority of sufferers are high-strung and nervous. But pain is not imaginary when the bowel goes into spasm. The ensuing irritation often leads to a disturbance in bowel function such as diarrhea or constipation.

The "nerves" enter the picture because they are directly responsible for stimulating the muscles that surround the wall of the intestine. The result is a severe painful contraction. Most victims are bothered during periods of stress such as financial or marital difficulties, dissatisfaction with working conditions, mother-in-law trouble, or sickness in the family.

A young bride was bothered several times a day with sharp, stabbing pains in the upper left and lower right abdomen. When they came on she was forced to bend over for a moment or two before the cramp disappeared. She said discomfort was tolerable but too annoying to be disregarded and admitted to some fear that a serious disorder was responsible.

Examination revealed no organic disease but X-rays showed spasticity of the large colon. She was given medicine to quiet her nerves and relieve spasm. Within 10 days, she was well.

A secretary had a similar condition which she likened to the cramping brought on by eating too many green apples. It was not unusual for her to have 10 to 12 loose movements a day. The disturbance was most severe when her boss was on the rampage or when office maneuvering was not to her liking. If everything ran smoothly she felt fine and for weeks or months had no discomfort.

Abdominal pain that bothered a lawyer friend mimicked appendicitis and on several occasions he was ready to go to the hospital to have his appendix removed. This man finally realized that pain developed when he built up tension through overwork and now uses cramping as a sign that a vacation is needed.

The bowel usually relaxes when the individual relaxes and therein lies the secret of successful treatment. This is easier said than done, however, because longstanding problems cannot be eliminated overnight.

Nevertheless, many are relieved when they realize what is happening and regard spasm as the penalty they pay for being tense or nervous because of whatever difficulty they are encountering.

Mild sedatives and drugs to relax the bowel go a long way toward helping in this respect. If constipation is prominent in this bowel syndrome, a mild laxative may be needed. Out of door exercise such as a long walk or playing golf will relieve nervous tension. The sufferer will sleep better, which means the bowel also will be getting a rest.

STRIPPED VEINS

S. G. writes: What is the stripping operation for varicose veins?

REPLY

In this procedure ,which is done under anesthesia, an incision is made at the top and bottom of the varicosed vein and a long wire is passed from one opening to the other. A button or knob is then attached to one end of the vein and when the free end of the wire is pulled, the vein turns inside out.

ACID SHORTAGE

G. Y. writes: What causes loss of hydrochloric acid in the stomach that results in pernicious anemia?

REPLY

This is one of the many facets of pernicious anemia that is not known. We are not too worried, however, because good treatments are available.

TESTS WILL TELL

G. K. writes: My son has had many nosebleeds. Is there any way I can find out whether he is a bleeder?

REPLY

A few simple laboratory tests will disclose whether or not the boy has hemophilia, scurvy, or purpura hemorrhagica.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Adams came back from a weekend at the Hamptons looking completely done in. "What the devil have you been doing with all those society folk down there?" asked an associate. "Fishing through the ice," groaned Adams.

"Fishing through the ice in June? What for?" scoffed the associate. "Cherries," explained Adams.

The late Professor Weaver once conducted an unusual examination near the end of one of his English literature courses at Columbia. He asked his class, "Please write down the name of the book you have read for this course that you liked the least." He waited until the class had complied, then ordered, "Now try to set forth on paper to what defects in yourself you attribute this sad lack of appreciation."

Some students insist that their faculty boasts an economics professor who's such a bore that at one of his lectures, two empty seats got up and walked out.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

A North Carolina congressman insists that popular song is wrong, and that Davy Crockett was born on a mountain top in the Tar Heel State and not Tennessee which, he says, wasn't in existence then. Trying to make a federal case out of it?

Hong Kong's newest big factory will manufacture air conditioners. Things are getting kind of hot in that area!

Alcoholic drinks are more potent at high chilly altitudes, an item reveals. Especially, we presume, frozen daiquiris.

Apple Sauce Bavarian Pie

You may decide to present this party-type pie at an afternoon tea party. Or as the dessert for a festive luncheon. Or for some evening occasion when you want to put your best step forward for special guests. For this is a pie to impress, to garner compliments for good looks and even more so, for deliciousness. And you need never tell that it's so easy to make.

It's easy because three modern ready-to-use foods are combined to achieve spectacular results . . . chocolate wafers, sweetened condensed milk and ready-prepared apple sauce . . . all found regularly in any grocery store.

The wafers form the scalloped shell. The filling is a soft gelatin-fluff of canned apple sauce, light and smooth, with the refreshing flavor of apple perked with lemon and orange.

Now to make it! Simply follow the directions and it'll turn out perfectly. And for the first time, how about serving it (with a flourish) to those most important people of all—the members of the family? When you do, you can expect calls for repeat performances.

Apple Sauce Bavarian Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
2 cups canned apple sauce
1 (15oz.) can sweetened condensed milk
⅓ cup lemon juice
¼ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2 egg yolks
1 package chocolate wafers (2¼" diameter)
½ cup heavy cream

Soften gelatine in water. Heat apple sauce; add gelatine. Stir until dissolved. Cool. Combine condensed milk, lemon juice, orange juice, orange rind and egg yolks; stir until mixture thickens. Add apple sauce; mix well. Line bottom and sides of 9" pie plate with chocolate wafers, standing wafers around edge. Cover with ½ apple sauce mixture. Add layer of cookies, cover with remaining apple sauce mixture. Place an overlapping circle of cookies on top. Chill. Just before serving; whip cream stiff, use as garnish. Yields 8 servings.

Refreshing dessert for picnics: Carry along several cans of apple slices (and a can opener). Spoon into individual waxed paper dishes, sprinkle with sugar, and serve with cookies. Canned apple slices are plump and juicy, with extra juice in the can . . . all of which makes them a handy and delicious picnic item.

Folks have fun putting together their own sandwiches at picnics. So take the makin's . . . loaves of bread, rolls, and varieties of cold meats, cheese spreads, pickles, relishes. One tasty combination is soft cheese blended with canned apple sauce and spread on slices of buttered bread. The flavor is a pleasant surprise.

Outdoor meals call for cool drinks. Delicious accompaniment to a hot frank on a roll is a cool, cool drink of apple juice. The individual 6-oz. cans are just right for this. Puncture top, insert straws and enjoy the juice right from the can. Or take a larger can or a bottle and serve in paper cups. No fuss, no bother.

Bakers' cup cakes provide a handy and favorite cake dessert for outdoor eating. Nice to serve with them is apple juice, chilled and delicious from the thermos.

Lemonade Buns

6 frankfurter buns
2 tablespoons lemonade concentrate
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine

Cut buns in half, horizontally. Combine lemonade and butter. Spread lemonade butter on cut sides of bun halves. Place buns on a shallow pan, spread side up, and toast in a hot oven (400° F.) for five minutes.

Yield: 6 servings (2 bun halves per serving).

Pineapple Glaze

A pineapple glaze accents the flavor of ham. Combine ½ cup of crushed pineapple with ½ cup of brown sugar and 1 tablespoon of flour. Cook, stirring constantly, for 10 minutes. About 1 hour before ham is done, remove it from the oven and pour off the drippings. Cover the ham with the pineapple mixture and return to the oven for setting the glaze and for completing the cooking.

June Is Month To Give Special Consideration To Milk In Diet

Milk is always a good buy. For the money spent, milk gives excellent returns in high quality protein, calcium, riboflavin and other vitamins and minerals, according to Janet L. Coblentz, foods and nutrition specialist with the University of Maryland Extension Service.

So, she says—why not observe June Dairy Month by giving milk special consideration in your daily meals.

In a recent study of family diets, dairy products took less than one-fifth of the money spent on food, yet provided two-thirds of the calcium and over two-fifths of the riboflavin, plus protein, vitamin A and energy value.

There is plenty of milk and milk products available, and the trend toward lowered fluid milk prices is reason enough to use more in daily meals, Miss Coblentz comments. She adds that dairy products are versatile foods and can be used alone or in combination with other foods.

At breakfast time—cook cereals in milk instead of water. Also, milk toast or French toast adds milk to the menu.

For other meals, milk soup and chowders are a nutritious way of combining milk with other foods. Favorite main dishes include baked macaroni and cheese, souffle and fondues, creamed chicken, eggs, dried beef or fish. Also, there are creamed vegetables for a tasty touch to many meals. And, to end up with—many popular desserts are made with milk—custards and ice creams.

The specialist says—don't forget cold milk drinks as a summertime refreshment...plain milk, chocolate milk, egg nogs, milk shakes with ice cream.

Pearadise Nut Salad

1 No. 2½ can Bartlett pears; 1 No. 2 can pinapple cubes; 2 large oranges; mayonnaise; ¼ cup chopped nuts; salad greens.

On a bed of crisp salad greens, place two pear halves, cut slice down, with a knife spread mayonnaise over top and sprinkle with nuts. On one side of the pears put 3 slices of orange and on the other 4 or 5 pineapple cubes. Chill before serving. More dressing may be served, if desired. Serves 4.

Busy Day Casserole

When you are spring housecleaning here's a handy dinner time serving — Pork - Cabbage casserole. Arrange 2 cups of diced roast pork and 1½ cups of diced coked cabbage in alternate layers in a casserole. Top with a thin white sauce and heat in a 375°F. oven for 45 minutes.

Braise Chops

Cook pork chops by braising. This method of browning the chops first, then covering them and cooking slowly brings out the full rich flavor of the pork.

Portholes in ships are made round instead of square because a round opening is easier to make watertight and is also more resistant to the pounding of waves.

Apple Sauce Bavarian Pie

You may decide to present this party-type pie at an afternoon tea party. Or as the dessert for a festive luncheon. Or for some evening occasion when you want to put your best step forward for special guests. For this is a pie to impress, to garner compliments for good looks and even more so, for deliciousness. And you need never tell that it's so easy to make.

It's easy because three modern ready-to-use foods are combined to achieve spectacular results . . . chocolate wafers, sweetened condensed milk and ready-prepared apple sauce . . . all found regularly in any grocery store.

The wafers form the scalloped shell. The filling is a soft gelatin-fluff of canned apple sauce, light and smooth, with the refreshing flavor of apple perked with lemon and orange.

Now to make it! Simply follow the directions and it'll turn out perfectly. And for the first time, how about serving it (with a flourish) to those most important people of all—the members of the family? When you do, you can expect calls for repeat performances.

Apple Sauce Bavarian Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
2 cups canned apple sauce
1 (15oz.) can sweetened condensed milk
⅓ cup lemon juice
¼ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2 egg yolks
1 package chocolate wafers (2¼" diameter)
½ cup heavy cream

Soften gelatine in water. Heat apple sauce; add gelatine. Stir until dissolved. Cool. Combine condensed milk, lemon juice, orange juice, orange rind and egg yolks; stir until mixture thickens. Add apple sauce; mix well. Line bottom and sides of 9" pie plate with chocolate wafers, standing wafers around edge. Cover with ½ apple sauce mixture. Add layer of cookies, cover with remaining apple sauce mixture. Place an overlapping circle of cookies on top. Chill. Just before serving; whip cream stiff, use as garnish. Yields 8 servings.

Refreshing dessert for picnics: Carry along several cans of apple slices (and a can opener). Spoon into individual waxed paper dishes, sprinkle with sugar, and serve with cookies. Canned apple slices are plump and juicy, with extra juice in the can . . . all of which makes them a handy and delicious picnic item.

Folks have fun putting together their own sandwiches at picnics. So take the makin's . . . loaves of bread, rolls, and varieties of cold meats, cheese spreads, pickles, relishes. One tasty combination is soft cheese blended with canned apple sauce and spread on slices of buttered bread. The flavor is a pleasant surprise.

Outdoor meals call for cool drinks. Delicious accompaniment to a hot frank on a roll is a cool, cool drink of apple juice. The individual 6-oz. cans are just right for this. Puncture top, insert straws and enjoy the juice right from the can. Or take a larger can or a bottle and serve in paper cups. No fuss, no bother.

Bakers' cup cakes provide a handy and favorite cake dessert for outdoor eating. Nice to serve with them is apple juice, chilled and delicious from the thermos.

Lemonade Buns

6 frankfurter buns
2 tablespoons lemonade concentrate
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine

Cut buns in half, horizontally. Combine lemonade and butter. Spread lemonade butter on cut sides of bun halves. Place buns on a shallow pan, spread side up, and toast in a hot oven (400° F.) for five minutes.

Yield: 6 servings (2 bun halves per serving).

Pineapple Glaze

A pineapple glaze accents the flavor of ham. Combine ½ cup of crushed pineapple wilth ½ cup of brown sugar and 1 tablespoon of flour. Cook, stirring constantly, for 10 minutes. About 1 hour before ham is done, remove it from the oven and pour off the drippings. Cover the ham with the pineapple mixture and return to the oven for setting the glaze and for completing the cooking.

June Is Month To Give Special Consideration To Milk In Diet

Milk is always a good buy. For the money spent, milk gives excellent returns in high quality protein, calcium, riboflavin and other vitamins and minerals, according to Janet L. Coblentz, foods and nutrition specialist with the University of Maryland Extension Service.

So, she says—why not observe June Dairy Month by giving milk special consideration in your daily meals.

In a recent study of family diets, dairy products took less than one-fifth of the money spent on food, yet provided two-thirds of the calcium and over two-fifths of the riboflavin, plus protein, vitamin A and energy value.

There is plenty of milk and milk products available, and the trend toward lowered fluid milk prices is reason enough to use more in daily meals, Miss Coblentz comments. She adds that dairy products are versatile foods and can be used alone or in combination with other foods.

At breakfast time—cook cereals in milk instead of water. Also, milk toast or French toast adds milk to the menu.

For other meals, milk soup and chowders are a nutritious way of combining milk with other foods. Favorite main dishes include baked macaroni and cheese, souffle and fondues, creamed chicken, eggs, dried beef or fish. Also, there are creamed vegetables for a tasty touch to many meals. And, to end up with—many popular desserts are made with milk—custards and ice creams.

The specialist says—don't forget cold milk drinks as a summertime refreshment... plain milk, chocolate milk, egg nogs, milk shakes with ice cream.

Pearadise Nut Salad

1 No. 2½ can Bartlett pears; 1 No. 2 can pinapple cubes; 2 large oranges; mayonnaise; ¼ cup chopped nuts; salad greens.

On a bed of crisp salad greens, place two pear halves, cut slice down, with a knife spread mayonnaise over top and sprinkle with nuts. On one side of the pears put 3 slices of orange and on the other 4 or 5 pineapple cubes. Chill before serving. More dressing may be served, if desired. Serves 4.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By Lichty

"You don't have your union, your grievance committee, your fair labor laws pampering you here . . . Now get going on these windows, Burgoyne! . . ."

Portholes in ships are made round instead of square because a round opening is easier to make watertight and is also more resistant to the pounding of waves.

Busy Day Casserole

When you are spring housecleaning here's a handy dinner time serving — Pork - Cabbage casserole. Arrange 2 cups of diced roast pork and 1½ cups of diced coked cabbage in alternate layers in a casserole. Top with a thin white sauce and heat in a 375°F. oven for 45 minutes.

Braise Chops

Cook pork chops by braising. This method of browning the chops first, then covering them and cooking slowly brings out the full rich flavor of the pork.

WIFE PRESERVERS

The easiest way to remove dried or burned-on food from an aluminum utensil is to cover the dried or burned-on-surface with water. Put the pan on the stove and bring the water to a boil. If the food has been severely burned on, allow extra time for the boiling. After the food has loosened, cleaning can be completed with steel wool cleaner pads.

Busy-Time Main Dishes

When house cleaning, gardening and a myriad of other tasks beckon, then is the time to plan simple meals to save time and energy. The homemaker has the responsibility for planning and preparing nutritionally sound meals for the family, and also meals that are appetizing and colorful. Even though days are filled with the extra activity of this busy season, meals continue to be important.

As a suggestion, plan a substantial main dish. Then to complete your meal add an easy-to-do salad, bread and butter, a simple dessert such as a pudding or ice cream, and milk to drink.. This plan will result in a meal that will appeal to all the family and yet take a minimum of time in preparation. Dairy foods are most helpful to the homemaker when planning simple, yet complete meals. With the important food nutrients of milk included in the main dish, either in the form of milk or cheese, their contribution to the meal will be important both nutritionally and in appetite appeal.

Green Rice Casserole

½ cup diced onion; ¼ cup butter; ¼ cup flour; ⅛ teaspoon pepper; 1 teaspoon salt; 2-½ cups milk; 2 cups chopped raw spinach; 1-½ cups grated American cheese; ¼ cup chopped pimiento; 3 cups cooked rice.

Fry onion in melted butter until tender. Add flour and seasonings and blend. Gradually add milk, while stirring, and cook until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Add grated cheese and pimiento. Stir in chopped spinach. Arrange ⅓ of the rice in a 1-½ quart buttered casserole; top with ½ of chopped spinach and sauce mixture. Repeat, adding remaining cup of rice to top. Bake, uncovered, in pan of hot water, in a moderate oven, 350° F., for about 1 hour or until mixture is lightly browned on top and set. Makes 6 servings.

Baked Corn Beef and Cabbage

2 tablespoons butter; 2 tablespoons flour; 1-½ cups milk; ⅓ cup mayonnaise; 1 tablespoon vinegar; 1 teaspoon salt; Dash pepper; 4 cups finely shredded cabbage; ⅓ cup buttered bread crumbs; 6 slices corned beef.

Melt butter in a saucepan; add flour and blend. Stir in milk gradually, and cook over low heat until mixture boils and thickens. Remove from heat; add mayonnaise, vinegar, salt, and pepper. Put cabbage in a casserole; pour on sauce, and cover. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°F. 40 minutes. Remove from oven; sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and top with slices of corned beef. Pimiento Posies "Bloom" in a Skillet

Here's a hot main dish which cooks over low heat in 15 minutes. Piquant red pimientos are stuffed with a zesty mixture of rice and sharp cheese, then quickly heated over tasty ham and rice. For serving, just place on colorful cabbage leaves — "pretty as a posey."

PIMIENTO POSIES ON CABBAGE LEAVES
Sweet Golden Corn on the Cob
Buttered Green Peas
Chilly Pears with Maraschino Cherries
Rye Rolls
Your Favorite Ice Cream and Cookies

INGREDIENTS:
2 cups water
1½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
1 cup uncooked white rice
¾ cup sharp cheese, grated
½ teaspoon steak sauce
Dash of garlic powder
6 whole canned pimientos (buy a 7 ounce can or two 4 ounce cans)
2 tablespoons cooking fat
1 cup diced cooked ham
1 cup water
6 small leaves of cabbage

METHOD: Put the water, salt, pepper and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove saucepan from heat but leave lid on 10 minutes. Stir in the cheese, steak sauce and garlic powder. Stuff some of this mixture into the pimientos.

Melt the cooking fat in a skillet. Add the ham and cook until ham begins to brown. Slowly add the water. Add the rest of the rice-cheese mixture. Arrange the stuffed pimientos over the rice. Cover and simmer over a low heat 15 minutes.

While stuffed pimientos heat, drop cabbage leaves into boiling, salted water. Cook 5 to 7 minutes until tender. Drain and arrange on a large platter. Top each leaf with a serving of the ham-rice mixture and a pimiento "posey." Serves six.

Frozen Food Tips

(Q.) When you raise your own chickens what is the best age to freeze them for locker or home freezer storage?

(A.) Tests have shown that a good age is 10 to 16 weeks and that a bird weighing 2½ to 4 lbs. is about the right size. Many people prefer younger birds, but above all be sure the birds are healthy.

W. Va. Response To CD Alert Is "Excellent"

State Served As Evacuation Area

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 16 (AP)—West Virginia's response in the nationwide air raid alert was "the best by far we've had," state Civil Defense director Edgar M. Sites said today.

No West Virginia cities were hit in the Civil Defense tests but the exercise gave the state a good opportunity to test its communication facilities and other Civil Defense functions.

Col. Sites said it was too early for a state-wide critique but he described the work done at the state's headquarters in the capitol building by about 275 people was "excellent".

He said response from the counties for information on personnel and evacuation facilities was complete and accurate with realistic answers on such questions as how many ambulances or hospital beds were available.

Because the state was not a target, Col. Sites explained, one of West Virginia's principal functions was to serve as an evacuation area for nearby cities, such as Pittsburgh and Washington, D.C.

The state also sent trained personnel and equipment to stricken areas. One such order resulted in the allocation of 40 tank trucks capable of carrying water.

Wool Collection Centers Listed For Maryland

COLLEGE PARK — The schedule for collection of the 1955 crop of Maryland wool has been announced by Amos R. Meyer, University of Maryland Extension marketing specialist.

The collection points are:

Centreville Queen Annes County Farm Bureau Co-op, June 20 and until noon on June 21.

Cockeysville, Southern States Towson Co-op, June 22.

Hagerstown, Southern States Co-op, June 23.

Oakland, Southern States Co-op, June 24.

Meyer advises growers to make sure that sheep are dry before shearing, if the sheep have not yet been sheared. "And make your fleece as attractive as you can," he urges. "Each fleece should be carefully folded so as to have no loose ends on the outside, rolled with the flesh side out and tied with paper twine. Remember, each producer's wool will be graded on its own merits as was the case in 1954, and payments will be made on the grade basis."

He lists the following places in Maryland where growers can obtain wool bags and paper twine: Southern States Co-op stores in Oakland, Hagerstown, Cockeysville, Easton and Leonardtown; Queen Annes County Farm Bureau Co-op, Centreville; Kent County Farmers Co-op, Chestertown; the office of Warren G. Meyers, county agricultural agent, Elliott City; and the office of P. D. Brown, county agricultural agent for Charles County, LaPlata.

County agricultural agents or vocational agriculture teachers may be contacted for further information on wool handling.

Keyser Kiwanians Begin Task Of Building Recreation Area At Limestone School

KEYSER — The Keyser Kiwanis Club, sponsor of Limestone Public School recreation center, set aside its program for the regular meeting Wednesday evening, and the group, wearing working clothes, appeared on the Limestone school grounds ready for work.

There, the Kiwanians unloaded from trucks that had been driven to the grounds, materials for erecting steel pipe for baskets on the basketball and volley ball courts, and for playground swings. The members taking over with picks, steel post diggers and shovels began working on the ground and soon holes were made. A concrete mixer truck backed up to the holes and cement was pored in around the poles and supports.

In addition to that, Fred T. Clark, Keyser city recreation manager, who had been invited to come to the school grounds, was present and laid out a baseball diamond and outfield. He also made the measurements, locating the pole positions for baskets on the courts.

During the working time, members took a few minutes off to eat an appetizing lunch from the "chow" truck, in which there were meat, cheese, lettuce, dressings, bread, buns, salad, bottled milk and orange ade in addition to dessert and other items that provided the workers with sustenance to carry them through the evening hours until after dark.

The club's recreation committee will finish the work this evening, when they will fasten the backboards and baskets and netting for the basketball and volley ball courts and install the ropes and swings to their supports and turn it over to the school.

Miss Madelyn Bazzle, principal of the school, who has been a patient in her home following four weeks in the Potomac Valley Hospital, was taken to the school grounds in a car to see the Kiwanis operations, but she was unable to leave the automobile to participate in the work, as she had hoped she could.

There is still much to be done to complete the full recreation site, but it will be completed within a short time. The tract of land, which had been prepared by cutting away part of a hill and grading the flat surface after fills were made, was realized through contract work by order of the board of education several months ago.

There was a big audience of sightseers present to watch the Kiwanians working.

Filtration Plant Given Go-Ahead At Westernport

Council Unanimously Favors Construction

WESTERNPORT — The Mayor and Council has decided to go ahead with plans for the construction of a filtration plant and storage tank in the Greene's Addition section.

The council voted unanimously Wednesday night, to continue the project, despite the fact that the citizens at a special election Tuesday voted against raising the town's tax rate. The voters did pas a referendum which empowers the council to increase the town's debt limit.

A report was made by the Glaze and Glaze Engineering Company of Harrisburg, Pa., which is making a survey for the purpose of constructing the storage tank.

Mayor Okey E. Michael stated that the company suggested two places to erect the tank. One on the lot of the Allegany Board of Education where the new high school is being built, and the other about 400 feet farther on the hill.

The mayor was authorized to request the City Attorney, Horace P. Whitworth Sr., to make plans to secure one of the locations.

The engineering firm stated that the pressure in the proposed area in the day time went down, and at night it built up. The construction of such a tank would help the water situation in that area during the day, the report pointed out.

Mrs. Katherine Dailey, city clerk, was instructed to advise the Potomac Fire Company that the town will not pay any more bills for gasoline purchased at independent stations, but would provide the fire trucks with gasoline from the town's gasoline pump.

Mayor Michael, City Commissioner Harry Richards and Mrs. Dailey gave a report of the meeting of the Maryland Municipal League at Ocean City.

The new parking lot to be operated by the town on the ground leased from the Western Maryland Railway Company is expected to be opened the first of August.

SCS To Launch Giant 7-State Soil Survey

Work For Projects To Aid Drought Area

WASHINGTON, June 16 (INS)—The Agriculture Department is about to launch a giant seven-state soil survey in which it hopes to cram the work of 147 years into the short span of 48 months.

Acting Sceretary Ervin L. Peterson said the study is urgently needed to provide a land classification and planning base for the department's long-range conservation program in Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

Peterson explained that the objective of the project is to stabilize agriculture and reduce physical and economic effects of recurring droughts in the region. Government officials hope to return much of the cultivated area to grass and other cover crops which protect the soil.

Large sections of the seven states have suffered heavy losses of farm income in the past few ypears from severe drought and dust storms.

According to Peterson, the Soil Conservation Service immediately will begin assigning additional workers in the seven-state area and hopes to complete its field mapping of the whole critical zone by June 30, 1959.

The acting secretary said: "Manpower will be increased 47 man-years during the next 12 months, doubling the present rate. In the succeeding two years SCS will need to add an additional 100 man-years per year to meet the goal."

The SCS and state expreiment stations already have completed soil surveys on about one-third of the land is the Great Plains.

Peterson said this means that information is already available for classifying land in many critical portions of the drought area.

SUCCEEDS HUSBAND — Mrs. Helen Holt is the newest member of the West Virginia House of Delegates. She was named by Gov. Marland to replace her late husband, Rush D. Holt of Weston.

Old Stage Coach Stop Being Razed In Wardensville

MOOREFIELD — The old tavern constructed in the early 1800's in Wardensville is being torn down and the ancient hand hewed beams are being sold. Rubertis 'Pete' Miller, owner of the property, has completed his new house and is removing the old structure.

The tavern was the stopping place for the old stage line that ran from Winchester to Wardensville at the turn of the century.

Some of the old beaded drop beams are 36 feet long and are still sound after a century and a half. Some of the old doors are also good. Builders of ranch type houses may still secure perfect specimens of the massive hand hewed beams.

Benefits Under Social Security To Be Outlined In News Series

A few days ago, the Cumberland News published an informative news article dealing with the rights of disabled workers under the Federal Social Security program. Immediately after publication, the Social Security office in the Cumberland Post Office building was besieged with inquiries. According to James E. Robertson, manager, upwards of 300 persons have applied for information, and of this number, a surprisingly high percentage qualified for benefits.

As a result of this interest, and this apparent need for more information regarding the Social Security program, its benefits and what it means to the average individual, a series of articles will appear in the News, setting forth special information of this nature.

Because of the great amount of agricultural activity in the Tri-State area, and because Social Security officials believe that farmers generally may not be familiar with their coverage or potential benefits under the program, this series of articles will be of special interest to farmers, farm workers, and others who make their livelihoods from what might be termed agricultural enterprise.

This group makes up the largest single segment of the population added to the Social Security family by the 1954 changes in the Social Security law.

It is suggested that self-employed people, most especially farmers and farm families, might want to save this series of articles for ready reference. The information they will contain comes from official intrepretations by Social Security experts and employes.

The articles will attempt to answer some of the questions which arise as to what action is necessary by the self-employed farmer, his employe or sharecroppers, to comply with the compulsory coverage provisions now extended through Federal-Old Age and Survivors Insurance protection.

Correct action now can mean accurate and complete monthly insurance benefits later. Incorrect or incomplete action at this time, might mean complete loss of Social Security benefits otherwise payable to the worker and his dependents.

It has been pointed out that these articles will be of special interest to farmers and farm families, but other self-employed people, such as architects, accountants, engineers, etc., may find them of interest.

Assessments And Taxes

To The Editor of The NEWS
Sir:

Lonaconing people who own property and pay taxes are fully aware their taxes have increased since the high increase in assessments were placed by the county and state assessors in 1954 in the Lonaconing area.

In comparison to the 1953 tax receipts for the Town of Lonaconing, an increase of tax receipts for real estate of $1,956.19 is noted:

Real Estate Assessments:
1953— $972,842.00
1954—$1,233,612.00
$260,770.00 Increase

Tax Receipts:
1953—$7,297.35
1954—$9,253.54
$1,956.19 Increase

The Personal Tax assessments decreased as follows:

Assessments:
1953—$116,475.00
1954— $63,705.00
$527.70 Decrease

Tax Receipts:
1953—$873.57
1954—$477.93
$395.64 Decrease

The $1,956.19 increase in Real Estate taxes and the decrease of $395.64 in Personal Taxes leaves the balance of $1,560.55 increase!

The balance ending May 31, 1955, shows a balance of $8,214.13 for the Town of Lonaconing. By motion of the out-going council and by request of City Clerk Sara Schramm, at their final meeting on Tuesday, June 6, an audit will be made.

Very truly yours,

Church, president of Potomac State College, has announced that ten scholarships have been granted to area young men and women who have graduated from high school, and who will begin their collegiate training here in September. Two of the graduates were granted individual scholarships, one was granted by the college faculty and seven awarded by the board of governors.

One scholarship, awarded to Ronald Stickley, member of this year's graduation class at Keyser High School, was declined. Stickley expressed his thanks but said he preferred to join the army at this time. He enlisted with the army last week, passed examination and is now awaiting his call to report.

That scholarship was then offered to the first alternate on the college list, Thomas Joseph Melody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Melody, 505 St. Cloud Street, Keyser, whose major will be journalism.

Six areas are represented in awards of scholarships, by the faculty committee on scholarships. Five scholarships were awarded Keyser High School young men and women; and one each went to Albright, Bruce, (Westernport); Piedmont, Ridgeley and Terra Alta.

Recipients of awards include seven young women and three young men.

The College committee on scholarships of the faculty, were: Norman B. Rodgers, chairman; Miss Ann Withers and John O. Maiden.

The faculty scholarship was awarded to Brown Lee Kooken, son of Vincent B. Kooken, graduate of Bruce High School, Westernport. He will major in pre-law.

The scholarship given by Carrol Stanley and Mrs. Hazel Stanley, Keyser, was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Ann Cuppett, 347 South Main Street, daughter of Mrs. Ann Whipple Cuppett and the late Reardon Cuppett. She is a graduate of Keyser High School and a pre-education major.

Suspension Of Gas Rates Increase Is Again Denied

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The Federal Power Commission today re-affirmed its denial of a joint petition by the public utility commissions of Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia and the District of Columbia seeking suspension of rate increases put into effect about Nov. 1, 1954.

In denying a rehearing, the FPC said that its action in allowing the increases—by certain independent natural gas producers—to become effective without suspension "is not any approval of the rates." It said the states would have a right to be heard "if and when" the rates are examined.

Suspension of increases, said the FPC, is a "matter of discretion of the commission." It ruled the state regulatory bodies "have not shown that there was any abuse of discretion in this instance or that there is merit in the legal arguments of the petitioners."

The FPC on April 25 originally announced its rejection of the petition. The state groups then jointly asked a rehearing.

The original announcement said the state commissions directed the petition against producers' rates on which Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., Houston, had based a proposed increase in wholesale natural gas rates of about $8,616,000 annually. The proposed increase by Tennessee was suspended last Nov. 26 and then put into effect, subject to refund, on Dec. 15.

Bedford, Frederick Street Section To Get New Lights

Seventy-seven new lights — 600 candle power AK-10 luminaires—will be installed on Bedford and Frederick Streets in the near future, William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light, announced yesterday.

Edwards said the number to be installed represents an increase of five over those presently in operation. The new lights will replace 48 of the 250 candle power; 20 of the 400 candlepower and four of the 600 candle power lights. All present lights and fixtures will be removed.

Lights will be installed on Bedford Street from the B&O Railroad to the crossroads and on Frederick Street from Centre Street to the crossroads, Edwards said.

In addition to giving a much better light, the new installations are modern and will add to the attractiveness of the city's approaches, he added.

Luminaries have been installed the length of Mechanic Street and Baltimore Avenue. It is hoped old lights on Greene Street can be replaced in the near future, it was said.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT

Told By AN OLD SCOUT

Now Houston, who had served his nation and his state, faithful and honest, got fed up with the scheming ways of those who envied him. So he just chucked up his job and went west to visit his old Cherokee foster father, Oo-loo-te-ka, and the rest of his Indian friends.

The old chief and his tribe made Sam welcome. They knew he was their true friend. Houston would like to have stayed there permanent but he'd heard there'd likely be trouble for the Americans who'd settled in Texas so he decided to give things a look-see.

Sam didn't get there any too soon. Trouble sure was brewing. The Texans were ready to fight for independence. Liberty-loving men like Sam, Davy Crockett and Jim Bowie came pouring into the state to help. When war came, the Texans made Sam their general.

One day an old scout name of Deaf Smith galloped into camp with terrible news. The Mexicans had massacred the defenders of the Alamo! Houston got so roaring mad he vowed to hunt down the enemy and wipe them clean off the face of the earth!

NEXT--Sam Houston wins the war and independence for Texas.

Tom Zachary Jr. batted .389 for the University of North Carolina baseball team this spring. His father is the former southpaw hurler for the Washington Senators and New York Yankees.

Five Favorites Win On Dapper Dan Day Card At Fairgo

Bagogold Cops Fifth, Let Out Payoff Is $44

Clark Pilots Three Winners, Cops Lead; Handle Is $149,979

Favorites won five of the eight races, including the Dapper Dan Club trophy, a 21-1 shot romped home the victor in the sixth event and Willie Clark took the lead in the jockey's race by booting home three winners yesterday on Dapper Dan Day at the Cumberland Fair Association's racing meet.

Bagogold, a three-year-old dark Fighting Fox filly, owned by Howard Thompson of Hagerstown and trained by P. R. Hemphill, scored a three lengths win over Mestee to annex the major portion of the $1,000 purse in the fifth race, the seventh annual Dapper Dan Club Trophy event for three-year-olds over 6½ furlongs. Anthony "Tony" Russo, native of Staten Island, N.Y., and now a resident of Baltimore, was aboard the winner, his first of the current 10-day meeting.

Al Abrams, of Pittsburgh, sports editor of the Post-Gazette and national president of the Dapper Dans, and Alex Schute, head of the local Dapper Dan Club, were present at the ceremonies marking the presentation of a defense bond to Bagogold's owner.

$149,979 Mutuel Handle

With ideal racing weather prevailing, 5,000 persons turned out for the second day's program and wagered $149,979, which was $5,915 less than was handled on opening day. The two-day total rose to $305,873 which is $3,079 better than the corresponding period last year when the play was $302,794. On the second day of 1954 the handle was $153,598 or $3,619 above the amount wagered yesterday.

When five favorites finished out in front on the Thursday card it sent the total up to eight in 16 races for a 50 per cent average. The Fairgo record for 10 days and 80 races is 48 per cent.

The top choices that registered were Suebarb ($6.20) in the opener, Pendra ($6.80) in the third, Rival Time ($3.80) in the fourth, Bagogold ($5.60) in the fifth and Il Trovatore ($5.60) in the final.

Let Out Returns $44.

Long shot players received their biggest reward of the 1955 session when N. Preston's Let Out, a 7-year-old gelding trained by J. M. P. Bell, and ridden by Lamar Bauer, beat Young Turk by two lengths in the sixth race and returned $44 for win, $16.80 place and $6.60 show. This represented the highest payoff in the first 16 races.

The winning daily double combination of Suebarb (5) and Miss Elfreda (6) netted $47.20 which topped the $18.60 payoff of opening day on Golden Dodie and Miss Monica.

Second best payoffs of the day was recorded in the 7th event in which Willie Clark scored with G. Pell's Spherical at the nice price of $13.40 for $2. It was Clark's three win of the afternoon and his fifth of the meeting, boosting him to the top of the jockey standings. Lamar Bauer was aboard two winners, Let Out and Il Trovatore. E. Tompkins moved into first place in the trainers' race by saddling his second winner of the meeting — Il Trovatore in the eighth. He is also the trainer and owner of St. Michael's, the $19 winner on Wednesday.

Bentrovato Is Destroyed

One sad note that marked yesterday's program was the destroying of Mrs. A. Lamm's Bentrovato after the 7-year-old gelding suffered a broken right leg on the far turn after running a quarter mile in the fourth race. Bentrovato was second choice in the wagering.

Rep. Harley O. Stagers will be the guest of the Cumberland Fair Association today, which is being observed as West Virginia Day at Fairgo. The fifth race has been designated as the West Virginia Purse. Post time for the opener is 2 p. m., EDT.

Warren Hacker Beats Giants

Tosses Five-Hitter, Chicago Winner, 2-1

CHICAGO, June 16 (AP)—Warren Hacker needed only a two run lift in the third behind his five-hitter to enable the Chicago Cubs to snap a three-game losing streak with a 2-1 victory over the New York Giants today.

The Cubs thus increased their second spot margin over the Giants to 2½ games.

Hacker had a warm duel with rookie Ramon Monzant, who yielded only five hits before he left for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

The lone Giant run came in the eighth on pinch-hitter Bill Taylor's homer, the sixth New York pinch-hit circuit clout of the year.

The Cubs picked up both runs in the third on a walk to Eddie Miksis, Frankie Baumholtz' triple and Randy Jackson's single.

Home runs by Clark, Cain, Klavuhn and Donahue sparked the Athletics to a 14-6 win over the Indians in a Dapper Dan Little League game yesterday at Stitcher Field.

Clark went the route for the Athletics and yielded nine hits. The winners collected 11 bingles and scored seven runs in the second and sixth innings. Brode hit a homer for the Indians.

At Penn Avenue Field, the Pirates eked out a 7-6 decision over the Yankees.

Carl Puffenberger, Pirates' relief hurler who got credit for the win, fanned 10 batsmen and scored the winning run in the 7th inning when he singled, advanced to third on a two-base error and crossed the platter on an infield out. Kean homered and singled and Puffenberger collected a double and one-base knock for the Pirates. Leatherman went all the way for the Yankees and struck out 12. Yankees Erupt In Final Frame, Top Tigers, 3-2

Pinch Hitter Howard's Hit Decides Thriller

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—Blanked by rookie Frank Lary through eight innings, the New York Yankees erupted for three runs in the ninth to defeat the Detroit Tigers 3-2 today and take the rubber game of the three-game series.

Limited to only five singles until the ninth, the Yankees tied the score at 2-2 on Yogi Berra's home run following a walk to Mickey Mantle and climaxed the winning rally when pinch hitter Elston Howard singled with one out and the bases full to drive in Irv Noren with the winning run.

Lary, who had walked only one batter prior to the ninth while striking out five, apparently lost his poise following Berra's homer, his 12th of the season.

Noren followed with a single, advanced to second when Lary hit Eddie Robinson with a pitch and moved to third on a walk to pinch hitter Joe collins. The latter fouled off six consecutive pitches with a 3-2 count before coaxing the pass.

Murry Dickson Blanks Braves

Milwaukee Shut Out 2nd Day In Row, 3-0

MILWAUKEE, June 16 (AP) — Veteran Murry Dickson extended Milwaukee's scoring drought by nine innings today, tossing a four-hit 3-0 shutout as the Philadelphia Phils blanked the Braves for the second straight day.

Dickson, evening his record at 4-4 with the win, was tagged for a single in each of four innings but the hitter never got off first base, even when George Crowe led off the seventh with a single.

Only one Brave got as far as second and that was Crowe, who walked in the fourth preceding Chuck Tanner's single.

The Phils got seven hits and two runs off Milwaukee starter Bob Buhl, who went eight innings in taking his fifth licking against three victories. The final two hits and one run for the Phils came off reliefer Ernie Johnson in the ninth.

Indians Maul Nat Pitchers For 8-5 Win

Bob Lemon Registers 9th Victory Of Year

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians mauled four Washington pitchers for 15 hits today in an 8-5 victory over the Senators. It was a slugfest with the two teams pounding out 27 hits.

Bob Lemon gave up 10 of the Senators' 12 hits but won his ninth decision. Mike Garcia had to relieve him in the ninth.

Larry Doby and Bobby Avila, each with three hits, led the Cleveland assault. Starter Chuck Stobbs was tagged with his seventh loss against one victory.

The Indians hopped on Stobbs for a pair of runs in the first and were never headed. Al Rosen's triple brought in Doby, who had doubled, and Ralph Kiner, who had walked. Cleveland added a run in the third and sewed up the game with a three-run outburst in the fourth, kayoing Stobbs in that inning.

Jimmy Clevenger pitched the McCoole Vets into a first place tie in the Mineral County Softball League by gaining a 2-1 decision over Cooper of Fort Ashby in a pitching duel yesterday at Keyser.

"Tucker" Cain's two-run double in the fifth was among the three hits yielded by Cooper. Clevenger tossed a four-hitter and struck out nine.

Bill Phillips retired 15 batsmen in succession from the 2nd to the 7th inning as Ridgeley took Patterson Creek into camp at Ridgeley, 5-3.

Ronnie Phillips and Eddie Powelson shared four of Ridgeley's eight hits. One of the five blows given up by Bill Phillips was Bob Chaney's two-base clout.

With Yaider and Woodson heading the attack, Turnaround edged Wiley Ford, 5 to 4. Yaider smashed a homer and single while Woodson rapped a pair of one-base hits. Rhodes paced Wiley Ford with three hits in three trips. Two snappy double plays aided Kenny Carder to register the win. Scores:

Mervyn Rose Wins Over Richardson

LONDON, June 16 (AP) — Mervyn Rose, who spurned a place on Australia's Davis Cup team in favor of a belated honeymoon at Wimbledon, assured an all-Australian finish in the London Grass courts tennis championships today by eliminating the last American contender, Hamilton Richardson.

Rose won with surprising ease from the Baton Rouge, La., Rhodes scholar, who is a member of the U. S. Davis Cup squad. The scores were 6-1, 8-6. Rose's fine performance started spectators wondering if he might not upset calculations in the world's premier tennis tournament.

The London tourney is the last important warmup before Wimbledon begins next Monday.

Joining Rose in the semifinals were three other Australians, all members of the official team—defending London champion Lew Hoad, Ken Rosewall and Rex Hartwig.

Tommy Bolt's 67 Sets Pace In Open Golf

Inman Three Strokes Back; Burke, Third, Ben Hogan In Fourth

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16 (AP)—Tommy Bolt, a fiery Texan with a putter to match, seized the first round lead in the 55th National Open Golf Championship with a brilliant 67 today—the only player in the select field of 162 able to crack par.

The 37-year-old Houston professional, a onetime carpenter, one-putted 12 greens from 20 to 3 feet to cut three strokes from par and tie the second lowest first day score ever recorded in this blue-ribbon event.

Par for the Olympic Club's lakeside course, a heavily-treed 6,700 yard layout just off the Pacific Ocean, is 35-35—70.

Bolt's 35-32 gave him a three-stroke advantage over his nearest challenger, Walker Inman Jr., 25-year-old professional from Augusta, Ga., who barreled his shots down the cypress canyons for an even par 70.

Burke's 71 Third

In third place came Jackie Burke Jr., son of a late Houston professional, with 71. He was followed by Ben Hogan, the four-time winner, who squeezed home with a 72.

Tied at 73 were Mike Souchak, the former Duke football player, and Babe Lichardus of Westfield, N.J. Other scores ranged as high as 96.

Casualties were heavy as the fast, tricky greens of the Olympic course took their toll of the game's greatest stars.

Defending champion Ed Furgol, who began defense of his crown by losing a ball on the first hole and taking a double bogey on the second for a pair of sixes, wound up with a 76, six over par, which left him well back in the field.

But he had distinguished company. Masters champion Cary Middlecoff also was in the 76 bracket along with Julius Boros, 1952 champion, Gene Littler, one of the brightest of golf's brash new "trailer Brigade," Al Besselink, Smiley Quick and Marty Furgol.

Snead Soars To 79

Sam Snead, who has seen his Open hopes dashed to bits in the final moments of at least a half-dozen of these events, got his lumps early this time, soaring to a 79 which virtually crushed his title chances.

Red Sox Edge Kansas City, 7-6

BOSTON, June 16 (AP) — Young Billy Klaus capped a surging comeback with a two-run home run in the ninth inning today as the Boston Red Sox defeated Kansas City 7-6.

Behind 6-2 going into the last of the eighth inning, Boston came up with three runs on Jackie Jensen's 12th homer of the season, a 2-run blow, and Norm Zauchin's 10th to close the gap 6-5.

Billy Goodman drew a walk from reliefer Johnny Sain to start off the ninth and then Klaus followed with a home run into the right field pavilion.

Ted Williams got a home run and two singles in four trips to pull his batting average up another 27 points to .415.

Harry (Suitcase) Simpson, a .167 hitter, slammed out a two-run homer, triple and single for the Athletics' losing cause.

LaVale's Maroons chalked up their ninth straight victory by defeating the LaVale Orioles, 6-4. Cresaptown Red Sox downed Barrelville, 8-2, and Ellerslie outlasted the Cresaptown Black Sox, 17-11, in Pen-Mar Little League games played yesterday.

Dave Fulk gained the nod over Jim Willetts in a pitching duel at LaVale, Fulk allowing six hits and Willetts five. Arnold Zaks had two singles for the victors while David Davis and Willetts shared four of the Birds' bingles.

Evans and Winters clouted homers and the latter also larruped a triple in the triumph of the Cresaptown Red Sox.

The Black Sox scored ten runs in the fifth inning but were unable to overcome the early lead piled up by Ellerslie. Lewis homered for the losers while Johnson had a triple and J. Lowery a two-bagger for Ellerslie. Scores:

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, June 16 (INS) — Fred MacMurray and Ronald Reagan will ink deals early next week to co-star in "Blood on the Blade" —so says William Broidy, head of the more and more ambitious Allied Artists.

It will be a biggie in Cinemascope and color with a budget somewhere around the $2,500,000 mark. James Warner Bellah wrote the screenplay from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Apache Curse."

Part western — and part prison opus, the story is based on the federal prison riots of 1865.

The following wire from Milton H. Greene, vice-president Marilyn Monroe Productions, Inc., speaks for itself:

"For your information — at no time did I call 20th Century-Fox to ask permission for Miss Marilyn Monroe to appear on a television program as it was reported. Neither Miss Monroe nor any member of this company has asked any sort of permission for appearance from that studio.

"There is no need for such permission as Miss Monroe is a free agent and not under contract to 20th Century-Fox. Therefore I feel you will want to print this statement in its entirety to set the record straight. Cordially." Yeah!

Those visits of music man Horace Heidt on the 20th lot are not just for sightseeing. Heidt is talking a "musical biography" with studio heads which would feature not only his band but many of today's top personalities who got their start with him.

Did you know the one and only Art Carney, the cutie of the Jackie Gleason show, was the announcer on Horace's radio show in 1941? And Gordon MacRae was a page boy at NBC in New York before Heidt gave him a break singing. Ralph Edwards and the King Sisters also got their first big breaks with him. Should make for smooth listening and looking.

Now that Tony Curtis is going to Paris to make "Trapeze" with Burt Lancaster and Gina Lollobrigida without her, poor Janet Leigh is already getting the "What's the trouble?" treatment.

"I may get to Paris while Tony is there, and I may not," Janet says, "but whether I do or not, there's no trouble. We've never been happier.

"I've been notified by Universal-International that my next picture for them will start just about the time Tony starts work in France. Obviously, I can't be both places at once. But should there be a delay, believe me, I'll join him as soon as possible."

Hollywood in shorts:

The stork's really flapping wings over the "Kismet" crowd with Ann Blyth announcing that she and Dr. McNulty expect their second in '56; Vic Damone becomes a father in August; the Howard Keels had a son two weeks ago and Director Vince Minnelli a daughter a month ago!

Roz Russell returns Sunday from weeks in Kansas shooting "Picnic," the rest of the company due Tuesday.

James Mason says the most awkward thing about the stork being a month overdue at his home is the difficulty in explaining to wonder child Portland who opined the other day that the bird must be on strike!

Remember Turhan Bey? Living in Austria for the past few years, he writes that he's returning soon to keep his American citizenship in good standing.

Attorney Monte Livingston not only closed the $20,000,000 4-year radio and TV deal for Jack Wrather's "Lone Ranger," he's also been named vice-president of Lone Ranger, Inc.

That's all today.

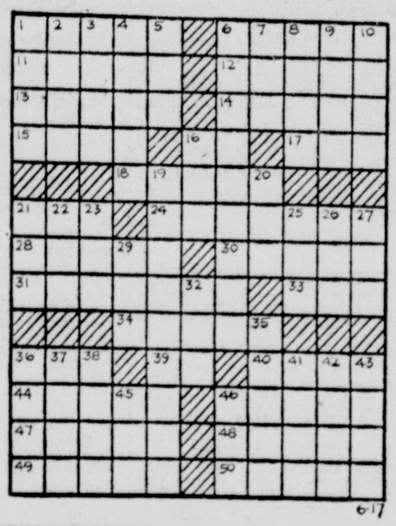
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

C N W C W R R Y L S J D B R T X L
K D J W G T H V P C N L A T W G L,
H D Y L Y L S N W Q L N W T C N L
K D B G W M L C D T L K R W G L — K G W X X L.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: ONLY IN LOVE THEY HAPPY PROVE, WHO LOVE WHAT MOST DESERVES THEIR LOVE —FLETCHER.

Yellowstone Park's Boiling Pool Erupts

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., June 16 (AP)—One of Yellowstone National Park's many boiling pools blew up this week.

Park Supt. Edmund B. Rogers said Biscuit Basin, usually just a hot water pool in the Old Faithful area, erupted and "actually blew itself out of water."

The pool, which normally throws hot water 4 to 12 feet high every 10-20 minutes, suddenly spouted 150 feet. That's about the height reached by Old Faithful, the park's famed geyser.

The eruption drained the pool, but the next day it had filled within seven feet of the top.

Gretna Green was a Scotch village once famous for eloping couples.

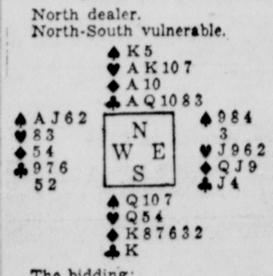
Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

MISTREATING AN ACE

WEST'S treatment of an ace was cruel and inhuman in the following hand:

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.



The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	2 NT	Pass
6 NT(!)	Pass	Pass	Pass

Before we get around to West's part in this imbroglio, it might be noted that North "bid like a wild man." His 20 high-card points and his distribution entitled him to be aggressive, but certainly not to the extent of jumping from two notrump to six notrump! South had not shown any real strength up to and including his two-notrump call—he had merely gone along with North—hence, even a leap to five notrump would have been inexcusable.

West, despite the opening club bid at his left, decided to lead a low club. South captured East's jack with the singleton king, and then, since he would need a spade trick in any event, he led low toward the spade king.

Right there, West made a horrible play: he put the spade ace! Then he exited with a low spade.

Declarer was now a lot closer to home than he had been, and he did not rebuff the opportunity so kindly provided. He cashed dummy's three good clubs, discarding two diamonds and a heart from his own hand. East, having to guard both hearts and diamonds, let go two spades. Now South led a low heart to his queen and cashed the queen of spades. The club was discarded from dummy and—East was fixed. Whether he let go a heart or a diamond, South could easily win the rest of the tricks.

If West had not been so quick to part with his spade ace, South (in the parlance of experts) "would still be playing the hand."

Hagerstown C Of C To Tour Queen City

300 To Make Bicentennial Excursion

The Hagerstown Chamber of Commerce will hold its third annual excursion in Cumberland on July 27, according to Anthony Saeli, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The 300-member delegation of Chamber members and their wives will arrive here at 11 a. m. on a special Western Maryland Railway train for the day's visit to the Queen City.

Saeli, who is in charge of local arrangements, said the Hagerstown business men will be met at the station by Chamber officials.

Will Tour Fort

Then they will be taken on a tour of the business area, Washington's Headquarters and the site of old Fort Cumberland.

They will be officially greeted by Chamber of Commerce officials at a luncheon meeting in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

In the afternoon, the delegation will be broken into two groups to tour the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

James W. Stone, manager of the Hagerstown Chamber of Commerce, will head the delegation.

The visit will mark the third annual pilgrimage of the Hagerstown group.

Is Annual Tour

The first year, they toured the Western Maryland's port facilities in Baltimore and last year visited a steel plant in that city.

Saeli recently invited the Chamber to come to Cumberland for its annual tour, since the Queen City is celebrating the 200th anniversary of Fort Cumberland.

He said the local Chamber hopes the pilgrimage will further the cordial relations which have existed between the cities in working out mutual problems which have arisen in recent years.

Federal Court Overrules ICC On Rail Stock

Western Maryland Plan Disapproved

A special three-judge Federal court in New York has decided the Interstate Commerce Commission has no jurisdiction to approve the Western Maryland Railway's plan of recapitalization under the Mahaffie Act.

The court observed that Western Maryland was not in financial difficulties and consequently the dividend arrearage on its first preferred stock is not continuing to accumulate. The road has been paying dividends on this stock.

This action had been brought by Willis D. Wood and others, minority holders of the first preferred stock, who had objected to the plan. The railway has a right to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court but the management in Baltimore has not yet decided on its course of action.

The plan, designed to eliminate dividend arrearages on the first preferred stock and remove the impediments to dividends on junior issues, was approved by the I.C.C. on February 21. It was mailed to stockholders for their assent in a letter dated April 28.

Under the arrangement, each share of $7 first preferred stock would receive two shares of $5 first preferred of $100 par and a half share of new $4 convertible second preferred of $100 par. Each share of $4 second preferred would be exchanged for one share of new $4 preferred convertible into two shares of common. Each present common share would be exchanged for one share of new $10 par common stock.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is the owner of about 94 per cent of the Western Maryland first preferred stock, 13 per cent of the second preferred and 30 per cent of the common. Its holdings, constituting 43.3 per cent of the total outstanding Western Maryland shares, are trusteed to Chase National Bank as voting trustee.

25 Boys Begin Sunshine Camp Stay On Monday

Kiwanis Again Will Operate Project

Some 25 deserving local boys will leave City Hall Monday morning for a two-week stay at the Sunshine Camp on Haystack Mountain, according to Carl F. Schmutz, chairman of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club committee which supports this project.

The boys, who were selected by Associated Charities for the camp, will remain there until Saturday, July 2, for a planned program of games, crafts and athletics with emphasis on fresh air, sunshine, exercise and plenty of excellent, wholesome food.

Schmutz said that most of the youngsters who have attended the camp since it was started in 1940 have gained weight during their two-week outing. For most of them it was their first stay away from home.

William Donahue, an Allegany High School teacher, and his wife will direct the camp this year for the second time. The cooks will be Mrs. Christine Burns and Mrs. Bertha Whetzell, both of whom work in the Cresaptown School cafeteria during the regular term.

On Sunday the boys will be transported to the church of their choice for worship. The youngsters range in age from eight to 12 years.

After the boys end their stay at the Sunshine Camp, 25 deserving girls will have a similar opportunity to enjoy camping. They will be at the camp from July 4 to July 16.

The camp, originally constructed for the treatment of tubercular patients in 1913, was operated for that purpose for nearly 20 years. The Kiwanis Club now holds a long-term lease on the 11-acre tract which includes well-cleared grounds, a small stream, swimming pool and recreational areas for volleyball, baseball and other activities.

Penn Avenue Teacher Dies After Tragic Auto Crash

A funeral service for Miss Ella Fern Richardson, daughter of John V. and Lulu (Michael) Richardson, 57 Park Avenue, Frostburg, who died early yesterday morning in Miners Hospital after a tragic automobile accident on U.S. Route 40 near Frostburg, will be conducted on Sunday at 3:30 p.m. at the residence.

Rev. Edward A. Godsey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Frostburg, and Rev. W. W. Patterson, pastor of LaVale Methodist Church, will officiate.

Pallbearers will be Arvil Garlitz, Earl Beachy, Edwin Eckhart, Galen Metzger, Dwight Folk and Charles Sigler.

Miss Richardson, 25, a member of the Pennsylvania Avenue School faculty, was returning from a funeral with her fiance, Daniel J. Folk, Jr., 27, of Grantsville, who was treated at the hospital for a lip laceration.

The accident occurred at 1 a.m., on Sand Spring Hill, a half-mile west of Frostburg, as the eastbound car crashed against guard rails and was demolished.

Miss Richardson had recently announced their engagement. She died less than three hours after the accident.

The couple had been to Grantsville, visiting friends and attending services Wednesday afternoon in nearby Casselman Mennonite Church for Robert D. Jones, 26, who died Saturday as the result of a construction mishap at Pleasant Hills, Pa.

Trooper Donald Wade quoted Folk as saying he fell asleep at the wheel and the right side of his 1953 Dodge, where Miss Richardson was sitting, hit the rails.

Thrown Under Wheel

Victor Lemmert, Frostburg, who arrived at the scene shortly after the accident, reported the young woman was thrown beneath the right front wheel of the machine. She complained of a "sore leg", although the only outward sign of injury was a facial laceration. An ambulance took her and Folk to the hospital.

Miss Richardson's death at 3:45 was attributed to internal injuries. In addition to cuts and bruises, she suffered a fractured pelvis and broken leg. An autopsy was performed.

Folk, a veteran of the Korean conflict, was taken to the State's Attorney's office late yesterday morning for questioning.

Same Crash Spot

The crash occurred at the exact spot where Dr. John B. Davis, Frostburg physician, was injured June 7 when his auto hit a guard rail near Charles' Motel, Trooper Wade said.

A native of Frostburg, Miss Richardson was graduated from Beall High School in 1948 and from Frostburg State Teachers College in 1952. At college she was a member of the Little Theater for two years, the Maryland Singers for three years, the Women's Recreation Association and the Future Teachers of America for two years. She served as secretary of the Arts Department in her junior year.

Miss Richardson, active in religious circles, was a member of the Frostburg First Methodist Church, was a teacher of the Boys' Junior Bible Class, and was a member of the WSCS Circle 4.

Survivors, besides her parents, include a brother, Frank Richardson, LaVale, and one sister, Charlotte Richardson, at home.

The body is at the residence.

Field Day Planned

The Playground Institute will wind up today with a field day program at Constitution Park, according to Robert E. Pence, rec director.

Plans for the program are being prepared by Larry Becker and Carol Conrad.

Leading off the events will be volleyball and softball games captained by Dorothy Heavener and Richard Rank.

A miniature track meet, in charge of John J. Cavanaugh, will follow.

A picnic lunch will be held at noon, followed by a forum in which the week's work will be evaluated.

Pence said all of the city's 16 playgrounds will hold registration Monday.

The schedule, he said, has been worked out to meet the needs of the most children.

Playgrounds which have two leaders will be open from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. and from 6 to 9 p. m., except for two evenings a week when they may remain open until 10:30 for movies or special events.

Playgrounds which have only one leader will be open from 2 to 9 p. m. with a 10:30 closing one day a week.

Pine Avenue Playground will be open daily from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. since it has a swimming pool, and will be open one night a week for movies or special events.

Washington Co. Damage Suits Moved Here

Plaintiffs Seek Total Of $12,500

Two separate damage suits totaling 12,500, filed in Washington County Circuit Court, Hagerstown, have been removed to Allegany County Circuit Court for trial.

One of the suits concerns a woman falling on an icy sidewalk in Hancock while the other suit pertains to the construction of a private dwelling on Lincolnshire Road at Halfway, near Hagerstown.

Marybelle Peck is seeking $10,000 damages from Edward M. Bearinger, of Hancock, for injuries claimed to have been suffered January 14, 1954, when she slipped on an icy sidewalk owned by the defendant.

According to the declaration, a down spout was negligently and carelessly attached to the side of the Hancock Hotel on Main Street. Drainage ran out on the sidewalk, according to the suit, the water froze and resulted in ice along the pavement. The plaintiff claims she sustained severe and permanent injuries about her head, and body.

Counsel for the plaintiff are Wagaman and Wagaman and Ready and Broadwater with Lane, Bushong and Byron, attorneys for the defendant.

In the other damage suit, Merle Feiser and Hester L. Feiser, his wife, are suing John E. Long, of Hagerstown, for $2,500. The plaintiffs contend they entered a contract with the defendant, who is a builder.

In the suit, the plaintiffs claim that the builder promised to furnish labor and materials with the exception of painting, grading, fill dirt and completion of a fruit cellar.

The plaintiffs further contend that the roof was defective as well as the plumbing and plastering and it was necessary that such had to be repaired due to defective workmanship and materials.

Ready and Broadwater are counsel for the plaintiffs while Crossley and Latimer are counsel for the defendant.

Deck Gun Is Mounted On Fire Truck

Will Provide High Pressure

An additional piece of fire-fighting equipment has been added to the Cumberland Fire Department with the mounting of a terret or deck gun on the one-half ton utility truck at Central Fire Station.

Chief Virgil A. Parker yesterday said the new apparatus is expected to be tested over the weekend. One test will be made along the Potomac River to check on draught and the other test is expected to be made in a remote section of the city with the use of water from a hydrant.

Parker pointed out that the deck gun mounted on a steel plate which is attached to the framework of the truck requires a pump from one of the other pieces of equipment for operation.

The basic purpose of the deck gun is to create a master stream which will have plenty of water and pressure for the firghting of fires which occur in high buildings or other similar fires.

He pointed out that the apparatus, which is now ready for use would have been useful in the destructive fire which occurred on June 4 at Abe Feldstein's Iron and Metal Company on Wineow Street.

Parker said that it is expected that some 1,000 gallons of water a minute could be trained on a blaze. The type of deck gun, engineered and installed by the firemen at Central, is found on fire boats and water towers.

Various size tips can be utilized on the gun, he added, with three or more streams being fed into the line. The truck was modified to add the gun. A steel plate and a steel shaft were mounted on the truck to mount the unit.

On the roof of the truck is located a cradle for the gun which has a 360 degree azimuth and 180 degree vertical thrust. One member of the department can put the gun into operation and a pressure lock keeps it in place. After being put into operation there is no necessity for a firemen to be at the controls.

A gauge, placed on the rear of the truck's cab is illuminated with a small light. The gauge will denote the pounds of pressure per square inch going through the apparatus.

With the use of a chart the number of gallons of water per minute being trained on the fire can be gauged, Parker added. The expense of the deck gun was borne by the Fire Department, and has been needed by the department for the past 15 years.

Cupler Cites Odd Use Of Tiny Drills

A tiny drill which appeared even smaller than a human hair was shown to members of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday by John A. Cupler II, president and owner of the National Jet Company here.

Both the drill and hair were shown under a microscope at the conclusion of Cupler's talk in which he noted some of the unusual uses found for the drills which his company manufactures.

Although the minute drill was only three-ten-thousandths of an inch in diameter, Cupler explained that the area of the drill is some 64 times greater than the smallest the local firm makes.

National Jet advertises its drills as the smallest and most accurate in the world and Cupler said that no other manufacturer in this specialized field has attempted to challenge the claim.

The tiny drills serve a number of unusual purposes. For one college research student, National Jet developed a drill for use in his attempts to produce synthetic speech. The research had the idea that his contribution would do away with the need for radio announcers.

Another was made for a large watch manufacturer. It was a multi-purpose drill which could make all the holes in the balance wheel of a watch simultaneously.

Then there was a drill for producing a hole in the ear of a guinea pig so that the animal's electrical impulses could be recorded.

Memorial Nurses Raise $202 To Aid Red Cross Blood Bank

Realizing the need for continuing the Red Cross blood bank program, threatened by a shortage of funds, the Memorial Hospital nursing staff, of which Mrs. Gladys Brooks is director, contributed $202 toward the project.

More aware than any other group of the importance of the blood bank program and its life-saving importance here, the nurses last week at a staff meeting discussed the situation.

The nurses conferred with John A. Moberly, superintendent of the hospital, and although they had been solicited in the regular Red Cross fund campaign, expressed a desire to further aid the blood bank. As a result, they collected from Memorial nurses, nurses aides and orderlies a total of $202, which has been given to the Red Cross Chapter.

Red Cross officials here have explained that the county's failure to raise the $37,500 quota in the annual March campaign has jeopardized the Blood Bank project. While blood is given free of charge to all who need it at the local hospitals, the cost of collecting, processing and distributing the blood is about $10,000 a year here.

When the final tabulation in the campaign was made, the goal was over $4,000 short. Since the blood program was the newest and largest item in the budget, it was the one most directly affected.

Red Cross officers say they are doing everything possible to make the continuance of the blood bank possible, but they fear that their funds will be exhausted before the end of the year.

The gesture of the nurses, Red Cross spokesmen said, is one of the most encouraging yet, and if "these people believe in the need and value of the blood bank, the whole county should be willing to support it. The nurses are in the best position to know its importance."

New Water Rate Plan Slated For Action Monday

Interim Plan Sought Pending Full Study

An order calling for a temporary increase in water rates is to be presented to the Mayor and Council on Monday morning, it was learned yesterday.

Informed sources said the order will call for "across the board" temporary increases, which are to be effective for from 60 to 90 days, and to be succeeded by a new rate schedule, incorporated into a new ordinance.

It was reported the temporary increase will become effective on July 1, when the new fiscal year begins, and be sufficient to provide the necessary additional money needed to operate the department.

More Study Set

While the interim rate is in effect, city officials plan to complete a study designed to set equitable rates for all customers served by the city.

The interim increase, it is understood, will provide a differential rate for customers inside and outside the City of Cumberland, and for flat-rate customers.

Studies are also underway to arrive at equitable rates for certain other services of the Water Department, such as the installation of taps.

Officials pointed out that the domestic rates charged by the city have not been increased since June 1932, in spite of the improvements which have resulted in a water system carried on the books at a value of $5,847,351.39.

During that period, several changes, both up and down, have been made in rates for larger quantity users.

Most Charge More

In recent months, city officials have been making a comprehensive study of the rates charged for water and water services in cities of similar size.

On hand is information supplied by 10 of the 14 cities of comparable size asked to supply data.

It is understood that most of the cities charge more for outside-the-city customers and that one city, Cincinnati, recently upped charges for outside water to double the city rate.

While the new rate schedule is being prepared, city officials plan to bring up to date all of the obsolete ordinances on the city books on the rate structure.

The basic rate for metered domestic customers is $4.50 a quarter.

CAP Squadron Receives Radio Communications

Being Installed In Automobiles

Radio communications are being provided for members of Fort Cumberland Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, according to Capt. Warren Mullenax, commander.

He said the radios are being installed in automobiles and planes of members to provide contact at all times with Civil Defense authorities and the Maryland Forestry Department.

Floyd Harper, communications officer, reported the radio equipment will be fully operational within the next two months.

The Cumberland squadron has 17 members who operate seven private planes.

A Garrett County flight is being organized as part of the Fort Cumberland squadron and already has 12 members, according to John F. Wagner, public information officer of the squadron.

The next meeting of the squadron will be held June 28 at 8 p.m. at the Cumberland Municipal Airport. All those interested in joining the CAP unit are invited to attend.

Brothers Of Brush Will Meet Monday

The Brothers of the Brush will hold their first organization meeting Monday at 8 p. m. at Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Headquarters, 75 North Centre Street, according to W. M. Wilson, chief brushmaster.

Business will include the election of judges, sheriffs and deputies and a lord high executioner for the kangaroo courts which will be held here during the Bicentennial.
